The School of Legal Studies

The School of Legal Studies, CMR University, a pioneering institute in the realm of legal education, has been dedicated to the cause of promoting legal education and research and facilitating young individuals into the legal profession since 2003. For the past six consecutive years, CMR School of Legal Studies has achieved a distinguished position amongst the top law colleges in India, as indicated by leading national magazines. The School of Legal Studies seeks to emphasise on the integration of enterprising initiatives and creative programmes in the curricular activity, transcending conventional academic orientation so as to inculcate within each of its students a vibrant and more realistic outlook towards their life and career. To advance this mission, instilling research and analytical skills among the students has grown to be a remarkable aspiration of this institution.

About the Seminar

School of Legal Studies, CMRU, in keeping with its vision of encouraging the production of professionals who will improve the quality of the legal profession and serve the nation in the highest traditions of the profession, is organising a National Seminar on “Recent trends in IPR.”

The seminar will provide the participants with an understanding of IP laws and the extent to which it protects inventions and designs. Intellectual Property is the root of the intellectual development of any country. With the drastic development of IPR, there is a vast change in the old and new approaches. From striking a balance between IP rights protection and public policy to promoting IP rights education, the Indian legislature has made efforts to implement better IP rights enforcement and protection. Judiciary has not been far behind in contributing to the development of IP rights. Litigation regarding trademarks, copyrights, and patents has setup a new precedent, courts are adopting international principles, and rulings to protect IP rights from being infringed.

Aim Of the Seminar

The seminar on ‘Recent trends in IPR.’ aims to bring together students, professionals, and academicians. The objective of this seminar is to acquaint the researchers with the recent emerging developments and changes in IPR. The Seminar will provide the participants with an understanding of IP laws and the extent to which it protects inventions and designs. The seminar will consist of several sessions in which presentations on various aspects of IPR will be given by the experts, followed by discussion session. It also encounters the recent trends as well as practical challenges in that filed.
