ABOUT THE ATLAS

The Constitution (Seventy-Third Amendment) Act, 1992 was enacted to reform the Panchayat System in India. The Legislature of Indian States was given powers to determine the powers and composition of Gram Sabha and Gram Panchayats. Hence, the powers, functions and composition of Gram Panchayats are determined by the State Governments in accordance with the local needs.

The state of Karnataka is pioneer in the decentralized administration system of Panchayat Raj Institution. The first act on Panchayat Raj institution was Karnataka Zilla Parishads, Taluka Panchayat Samithis, Mandal Panchayat and Nyaay Panchayat Act, 1993 consequent upon the constitution (73rd amendment), 1992. The state of Karnataka established a three tier Panchayat Raj system in the state with the elected bodies of Grama, district level for greater participation of people and more effective implementation of rural development programmes in the state.

The state of Karnataka replaced the Karnataka Zilla Parishads, Taluka Panchayat Samithis, Mandal Panchayat and Nyaay Panchayat Act, 1983 by Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act, 1993. By Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act, 1993 a 3 tier Panchayat system with elected bodies at all levels was established to make our institution effective as units of local self Government. It provides for reservation of seats in favour of SC/ ST in proportion of their population and reservation of 1/3rd seat for women at all levels. It also provides for reservation of seats and offices of chair persons at all levels for the persons belonging to SC, ST, backward classes and women. Accordingly State has 3 tier systems i.e., Zilla Panchayat, Taluk Panchayat and Gram Panchayat. The State had earlier 5629 GPs, 176 Taluks Panchayats and 30 Zilla Panchayats. These Gram Panchayats were established as per the 1991 census figures.

Gram Panchayat is the first tier of Panchayat Raj institution which comprises of a village or group of villages. The Gram Panchayat consist of such number of elected members as may be notified from time to time by the state election commission at the rate of one member for every 400 population or part their of the Panchayat area. Number of seats reserved for SC and ST is in proportion to population of SC and ST, however at least one seat each is reserved in Gram Panchayat for person belonging to SC, ST. as nearly as may be 1/3rd of the total seats of the Gram Panchayat is reserved for the person belonging to the backward classes. 1/3 rd of seats is reserved for women.

The section 4 of Karnataka Panchayat Raj Act – 1993 provides the Deputy Commissioners to declare and establish any area comprising a village or group of villages based on spatial distribution of population to be a Panchayath area including change of Gram Panchayath headquarters with the consent of the Government.

Over the years increase in the density of population in several GP's has necessitated the revision of Gram Panchayath jurisdiction. Further the government has received several requests from elected representatives to change the GP headquarters and delimit several GP's i.e., adding/deleting of villages for administrative convenience and also for better spatial distribution of population. To consider these requests the Government constituted a committee under the president ship of Shri S G Nanjayyanamath called "Gram Panchayat Reorganisation, Revision and Change in Head Quarters Committee" during March, 2014. The committee headed by Shri S G Nanjayyanamath took up an extensive delimitation exercise following amendments to the Panchayat Raj Act based on the information provided by Census 2011 and the committee submitted its final report during October, 2014. After the Completion of the delimitation process, the State Government constituted 439 new Gram Panchayats taking the total Panchayats to 6068 in Karnataka. The process adopted for delimitation exercise is available in Government Order.

The Deputy Commissioners of each district further revised and published final notification comprising list of Gram Panchayat and its jurisdiction/head quarters based on suggestions, complaints and advice received from general public and elected representatives during February, 2015. Further the elections were held for the delimited GP constituencies during May, 2015. In 2016, several GP's were upgraded to towns by the department of Municipal Administration. This publication brings out all the changes made by the State till February, 2016.

The Council provided spatial decision support to the committee headed by Shri S G Nanjayyanamath and further through its district NRDMS centres supported and assisted Deputy Commissioner's office in the delimitations process by using the map and statistical data available up to village level. This publication presents jurisdiction of Gram Panchayats for each taluks of the State and is depicted through Maps providing a list of census revenue villages coming under each of these Gram Panchayats. The Council is planning to put up this information on Karnataka Geoportal to allow users to query based on socio-economic parameters/indicators as per census 2011 across different sectors.

KARNATAKA NRDMS PROGRAM

Background

With the constitution of Indian Planning Commission in March, 1950, planning experiment in India started in 1951 with the objectives of 1) Removal of poverty, 2) Building of a modern society making maximum possible use of Science and Technology and 3) Attainment of self-reliance (Planning Commission,). Key to national prosperity was identified in effective combination of three factors, technology, raw materials and capital (Scientific Policy Resolution, 1958). The initial approach of planning based on macro level assessment of resources did not yield the desired results. The inequities amongst people and disparities between regions persisted. Also, there was evidence of general environmental degradation and mounting stress on land and water resources.

In order to overcome the situation, conceptual changes in the practice of planning was brought in, around late 70s, by adopting the decentralized or local level planning to ensure that the development is sustainable, area-specific and take into account the felt needs of the local people. The objectives of decentralized planning are; 1) Increase in Productivity of land, 2) Employment generation. Keeping in mind assets development, 3) Poverty alleviation and 4) Provisions of minimum amenities and infrastructure facilities. Towards this end, the Constitution (73rd and 74th Amendments, 1992 & 1993) was amended to empower the State Governments to form the institutions of local self - governance i.e. rural local bodies (Panchayaths) and municipalities in rural and urban areas respectively.

At the core of this concept lies an integrated approach to planning in contrast to the sectoral method. This requires a detailed knowledge of the interrelations and interdependencies between various sectors to resolve often-conflicting demands. This leads to a requirement for appropriate data management and analyzing tools and techniques and a large matrix of sectoral data, in digital format, on natural resources, demography, socio-economy etc. and integrating them to generate appropriate information/applications required for plan preparation. India has a long tradition of systematic collection of spatial and non-spatial data at National level.

At the district level, history of non-spatial data collection date backs to the eighteenth century, when a District Gazetteer used to be there for each district. There is a strong tradition of non-spatial data collection at the local level (district) by different departments. The development of database technologies, entry of computers in India in the late 70's and first

Indian Remote sensing Experiment in 1977, triggered the possibility of introduction and integration of geo spatial information in the planning.

Considering the emphasis on technological self-reliance and development and adaptation of suitable technologies for local needs to make an impact on the lives of ordinary citizens (Technology Policy statement, 1983), the Government of India initiated a number of technology-based programmes to support the Local level planning in1980s viz. Natural Resources Data Management System (NRDMS) of the Department of Science & Technology, National Natural Resources Management System (NNRMS) of the Department of Space and Geographical Information System (GISNIC) and District Information System (DISNIC) of the National Informatics Centre (Ministry of Communication and Information Technology).

Initiated in the year 1982, as a mission mode project by the Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India strived to demonstrate the efficiency of computer based technologies for management of data on natural resources that is responsive to the needs of the modern management of data on natural resources that is responsive to the needs of the, modern management practices for holistic planning at the district level. The program launched to catalyse the evolution of methodologies and techniques for formulating development strategies. In a scenario of large diversity of data sets, data users and data generating agencies, the Programme aims at developing and demonstrating the use of spatial decision support tools for integrated planning and management of resources at the local level.

Vision

Enabling people, communities and institutions of local-self Governance with requisite databases and S & T tools for informed participation in local level planning.

Goals

Strengthen S&T inputs in developing tools and techniques for integrated resource management and for capacity building at various levels of planning and implementation in a spatio-temporal context in a multi-level framework.

Objectives

The objectives of the Programme are to

- Demonstrate and promote the use of spatial data technologies for local level planning under diverse terrain conditions
- Provide software support for data management, modelling and operation research
- Promote R & D in spatial data technologies
- Technology transfer & capacity building of potential users
- Forge linkage with users at different levels
- Provide S & T inputs for framing policies related to spatial data technologies
- Develop & demonstrate pilot scale geo-spatial data infrastructure and provide research support to the National Spatial Data Infrastructure (NSDI)

About Karnataka NRDMS Program

Karnataka State Council for Science & Technology (KSCST) recognizing the need for both spatial and non-spatial data to local level planning across Karnataka established Karnataka Natural Resources Data Management System (NRDMS) program in 1992 to develop a comprehensive spatial data management system for easy access of data and information. 73rd and 74th Amendments to the Constitution also emphasized the need for geospatial data for development planning to local level governments or Panchayaths. NRDMS is a joint project of Natural Resources Data Management System (NRDMS) of Department of Science & Technology, Government of India, and the Government of Karnataka.

Karnataka NRDMS program is a multi-disciplinary and multi-institutional program aimed at developing methodologies for building and promoting the use of spatial data management and analysis technologies in local area planning. The initial approach of planning based on macro level assessment of resources did not yield the desired results. The introduction of the concept of spatial planning to micro-levels by the Planning commission also paved the way for evolution of Karnataka NRDMS program. The vision of the NRDMS program during its inception was to provide S&T inputs for operationalising the concept of decentralized planning of the country by developing computer compatible spatial databases on natural resources, socio and agro-economic parameters to further the concept of area specific decentralized planning.

Resource knowledge and resource inventory is crucial to spatial planning. At the core of this concept lies an integrated approach to planning in contrast to the sectoral method. This requires a detailed knowledge of the interrelations and interdependencies between various sectors to resolve often-conflicting demands. This leads to a requirement for appropriate data management and analyzing tools and techniques and a large matrix of sectoral data, in digital format, on natural resources, demography, socio-economy etc. and integrating them to generate appropriate information /applications required for plan preparation.

The Council established district NRDMS centers in each district over a period of time and established all the centres by 2008 with the funding support of both central and state government. The district NRDMS centres now are being solely supported by the state government and Karnataka government is the only state in India to institutionalise spatial data for local level planning. These centres are tasked with empowering local communities to make informed decisions in local-level planning initiatives using geospatial technologies.

The utilization of geospatial data and services for a wide range of uses has seen steady growth in the requests for both data and services by planners and administrators. The NRDMS program is continuously updating its datasets in diverse fields with an increasing set of application requirements. Application domains include, for example, public health and education, environmental analysis and mapping, transportation, water quality/quantity, watersheds, elections, disaster planning and management, and administration and planning. NRDMS centers provide value-added information, spatial decision support systems, training and support to planners and administrators in local governments. The NRDMS program now has been institutionalized in the state through RDPR and Karnataka is the first State to institutionalize spatial data for decision-making.

NRDMS Methodology

NRDMS programme aims to analyze the evolution of methodologies and techniques for formulating development strategies. In a scenario of large diversity of data sets, data users and data generating agencies, the programme aims at developing and demonstrating the use of spatial decision support tools for integrated planning and management of resources at the local level. The NRDMS programme uses both maps and textual data collected from various data generating agencies and remote sensing sources. Maps are digitized and stored on a computer as a series of thematic data layers. Depending on the real unit of planning, maps on 1:250,000, 1:50,000 and cadastral scales are utilized. Data on natural resources, demography, agro & socio-economy and infrastructural facilities for a district form the core database. Those pertaining to specific problems of an area constitute the sectoral database. Textual data obtained from secondary sources are normally stored with village as a unit. Data gaps are filled in by limited primary surveys. Various decision support systems \ modules built into the system help process the data and generate alternative scenarios for making optimal planning decisions. Outputs in the form of thematic maps, tables and reports based on spatial analysis are obtained from the database as per the user requirements.

Use of Geospatial Technologies in NRDMS

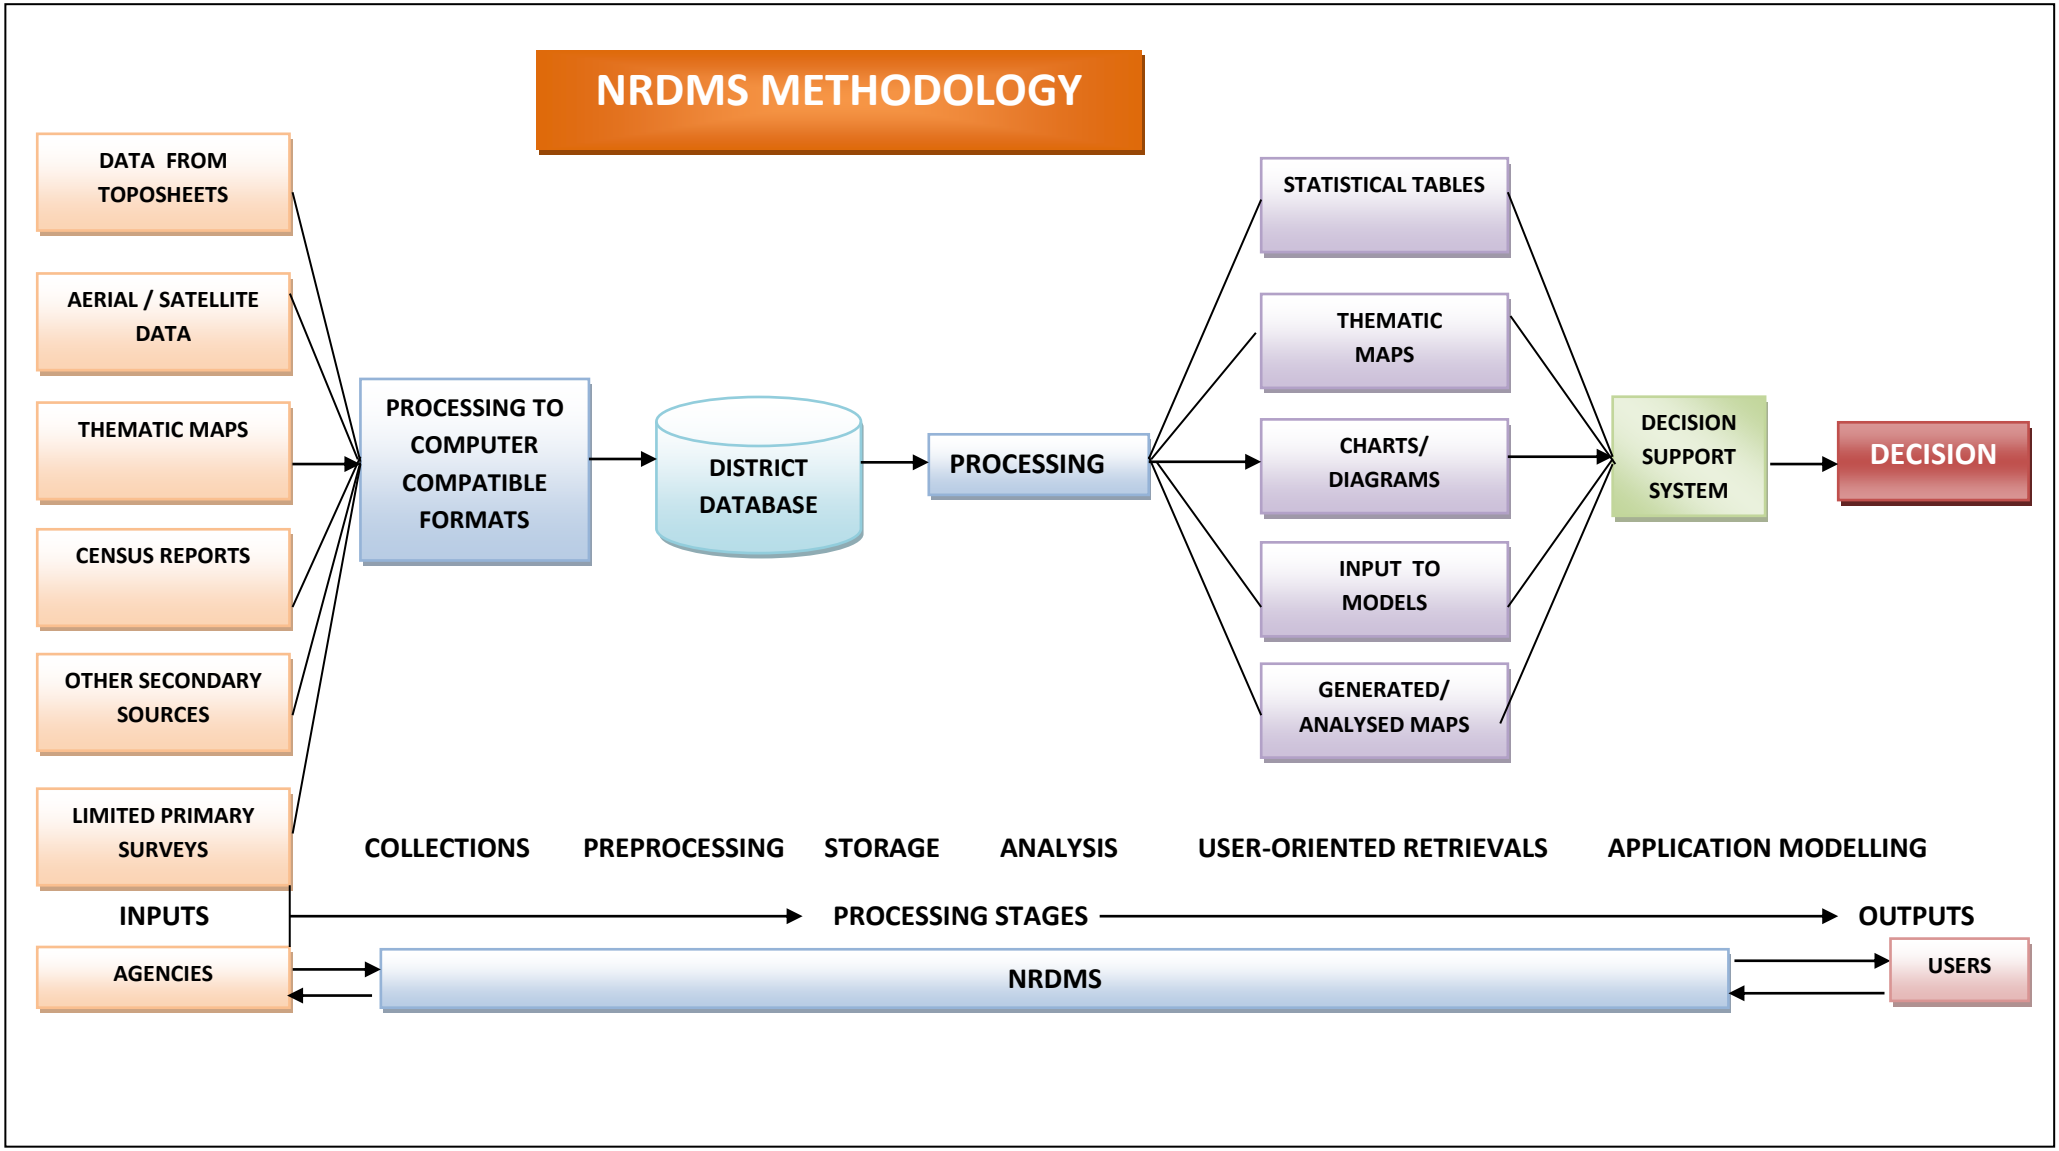

A geographic information system (GIS), captures, stores, analyzes, manages, and presents data that is linked to location. Technically, GIS is geographic information systems which includes mapping software and its application with remote sensing, land surveying, aerial photography, geo-positioning system, mathematics, photogrammetry, geography, and tools that can be implemented with GIS software. GIS applications are tools that allow users to create interactive queries (user created searches), analyze spatial information, edit data, maps, and present the results of all these operations.

GIS have taken advantage of rapid developments in Information technology over the past several decades to address the spatial challenges of storing and analyzing spatial data. GIS belongs to the class of computer systems that require the building of large databases before they actually become useful. Actually, the use of a GIS requires that large spatial database be created, appropriate hardware / software be procured and installed, applications be developed, installed, integrated and tested before users can use the GIS and realize the benefit.

The role of a GIS in a government setup is more than simply automating a few obvious tasks for the sake of efficiency. A local government or Zilla Panchayath should view the GIS project as an opportunity to introduce fundamental change into the way its business is conducted.

Just as MIS / EIS in corporate business world, the adoption of GIS effectively reorganises the data and information that the government collects, maintains and uses to conduct its affairs. This will lead to major changes in the institution both effectiveness and efficiency of operations. NRDMS uses corporate database concept to integrate GIS data for all units of Zilla Panchayath participating in a co-operative GIS program. Establishing the corporate database is much more a question of policy, management co-operation and co-ordination.

An effective corporate database does require co-operation on the part of all users, both for collection and entry of data in the database and in developing applications in a shared data context. This may result in some individual applications or uses being less efficient, however the overall benefits to the organization can easily outweigh these inefficiencies. Greater emphasis must be placed on maintaining a high quality of data and services to users.

DEVELOPMENT OF KARNATAKA GEOPORTAL

Karnataka State level Spatial Data Infrastructure (KSSDI) called Karnataka Geoportal is a centralized single window access mechanism for all the spatial data acquired by various agencies in Government of Karnataka using State's resources primarily to support planning activities of the Panchayath Raj Institutions (PRIs), district/state line departments, Urban Local Bodies (ULBs) and civil society organizations in the State. KSSDI is an Internet based GIS Directory for the state that eventually will be extended for the use of the society in exploring the information related to state geography, demography, agro and socio economy, and infrastructure facilities.

Spatial datasets generated, maintained and provided by various concerned Line Departments of the State Government, academia, private or civil society organizations of Karnataka are proposed to be made accessible through the project data clearinghouse mechanism. In the future the site can also be extended to cater to sale and purchase of data online. All the data would be shared through the Open GIS Consortium (OGC) recommended standards.

The available data would be catalogued and the search for availability of any particular dataset would be made available through specially customized metadata (data about the data) utility. In this architecture, KSSDI Gateway and its user interface allow a user to query distributed collections of spatial information through their metadata descriptions. This spatial information may take the form of "data" or of services available to interact with spatial data on the different data server, described with complementary forms of metadata. A user interested in locating spatial information uses a search user interface, fills out a search form, specifying queries for data with certain properties. The search request is passed to the database Server, which shall search the Metadata repository on its end. The datasets fulfilling the search criteria will be displayed to the user, on users request the same can be accessed from the Agency Server.

The KSSDI Data clearing house and geo-portal would act gateway for various data generating agencies to share the information across various government departments, NGOs, academies, industries and scientific organisation. It will be a Single window system for discovery, view and access state geo-spatial data sets along with attributes. The individual departments and KSCST would be able to add and update the state geo-spatial data sets thereby providing the up-to-date spatial data dictionary and map directory for the state and facilitate decision support system and helps in local level planning. Thus, KSSDI would provide scientific approach to the decision makers, planners and administrators to facilitate common man usage of valuable Geo-spatial data. Also, the proprietary data prepared by department can also be used for the data sale and purchase, which can be part of the state revenue generation.

The complete KSSDI portal is developed using the ERDAS Apollo Software, an OGC compliant with facilities to share the vector and raster datasets through WMS, WFS and WRS web services along with the solutions and products from IBM for server hardware, storage, backup and retrieval systems, CISCO for the Networking components and Oracle for RDBMS requirements, respectively.

Functions of KSSDI Geoportal

KSSDI Geo Portal provides an OGC framework for accessing spatial data across organizations or group of users in an efficient and flexible manner. This has the following components

I. Map Viewer is an internet based interactive map viewing applications, which allow a user to view the spatial data. Map Viewer also facilitates map discovery, querying, analysing and update.

II. Map Catalogue is list of map services available as a map directory. It allows the user to browse the directory of spatial datasets that are available as map layers. It facilitates an authorized data provider to publish map data as service that can be accessed remotely.

Metadata is information about spatial data. This would enable a user ton view the descriptions of the metadata before actually accessing/working with the data. The authorised users would be able to Create, Update, Remove and Export Metadata is provided.

III. Product Catalogue: Facilitate spatial datasets as maps to be listed as products and hosted for online sale and purchase with the payment details. Registered users can search for map products, select and download by making online transaction.

IV. Service Request: Allows users to post their requests via the portal to publish data as map services or make available as a product. The request can be made to the KSSDI Administrator or to a specific Line Department.

V. KSSDI Applications: KSSDI Applications are prepared based on the currently identified needs of the line departments.

The applications are categorized based on the department name or a search keyword. These applications will help the Users in taking decision making process. An indicative list of application requirements are given below which would be available as part of KSSDI Geoportal for various users.

Karnataka Geoportal System Architecture

The diagram provides a schematic representation of the infrastructure and network requirements to host the Geo Portal and the clearing house and provide the system performance as stated in the requirements. The diagram also show required number of servers, and server types, and how these servers will communicate with existing infrastructure and partner systems

Karnataka Geoportal Services

Karnataka GeoPortal is envisaged to be a centralized single window access mechanism for all spatial data held and acquired by various agencies/line departments of the state. The modules in the Karnataka Geoportal are categorized into

- Map viewer - Web Map Service (WMS),
- Product catalogue/metadata - Catalogue Service on Web (CS-W),
- Services specific service/ feature data sets - Web Feature Service (WFS),
- Simple Applications (Query based decision support)

Karnataka Geoportal 2nd phase

The Council in consultation with DST-GOI prepared a proposal to continue the activity under Karnataka Geoportal program. The second phase of the project planned to implement online web map solutions and spatial services such as transactional web feature services (WFS-T), Geo-web services. Geo visualization, publishing metadata (both for data and services), searching and examining spatial data or services etc.

The 2nd phase objective is to develop web based geospatial applications/decision support system for selected schemes of Watershed and Health Departments to support G-governance on Karnataka Geoportal platform. The 2nd phase of KSSDI project is expected to maximize utilization of the Karnataka State Geoportal and to demonstrate the utility of the Geoportal in two identified sectors i.e. Watershed Management and Health. The concept of g-governance is planned to be demonstrated on Karnataka Geoportal platform.

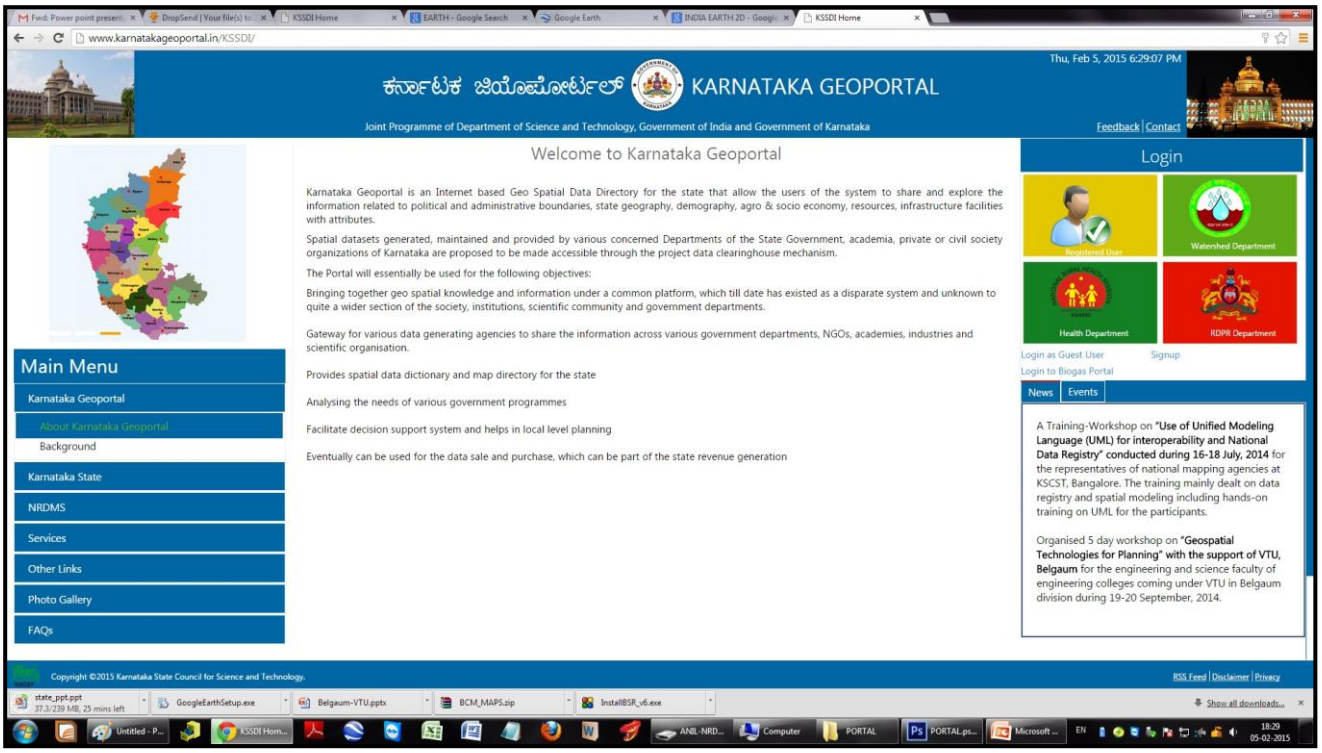

We in the intervening period have been discussing with industry, subject experts and departments to evolve the requirements to make Karnataka Geoportal truly a best portal in the area of providing geospatial governance i.e., to plan, monitor, review and evaluate several government schemes requiring spatial datasets. The add-ons of Karnataka Geoportal to achieve geospatial governance are listed below.

BELAGAVI DISTRICT

Belagavi (earlier known as "Venugrama" or the "Bamboo Village") is one of the oldest, strong, prominent and well cultured historical place nestling high in the Western Ghats. The old town area with cotton and silk weavers stands gloriously besides the modern, bustling, tree-lined British Cantonment. It lies in the zone of cultural transition between Karnataka, Maharashtra and Goa with a known antiquity clearly traceable upto 2nd Century A.D. due to its proximity with the states of Maharashtra and Goa, Belagavi has acquired the cultural flavour of these states and blended it with the local Kannada culture to create a rich heritage, which is unique in its manifestation. It is also known as Malenadu or Rain Country and the vegetation here is verdant green throughout the year. Well, centuries have passed and today it is an entirely different story. Belagavi has now become one of the important and considered district in the state of Karnataka. Belagavi is now marching with a tag of fast growing, redeveloping district with a population of 47,79,661 as per 2011 Census. Belagavi is exactly at the center between Mumbai and Bangalore.

DHARWAD DISTRICT

Dharwad district is situated in the Western sector of the northern half of Karnataka State. The District encompasses an area of 4263 sq. kms lying between the latitudinal parallels of 15002' and 15051' North and longitudes of 73°43' and 75°35' East. The District lies approximately about 800 mts above the sea level, which is why it enjoys a moderate and healthy climate. On the agricultural front, the presence of black soil helps in raising crops like Cotton, Wheat, Ragi, Jowar and Oil seeds and that of red soil is more suitable for paddy.

The district falls in Tropical Region, which is largely affected by monsoons. This explains that the district is an agro-based economy, and also that agriculture is the main occupation in the whole of rural area of the district. The prestigious University of Agricultural Sciences at Dharwad has discovered new species of cotton and chilies, which is the first of its kind in the world. The main kharif crops are cotton, chillies, sugarcane and groundnuts, and the main rabi crops are Jowar, wheat, rice etc.

GADAG DISTRICT

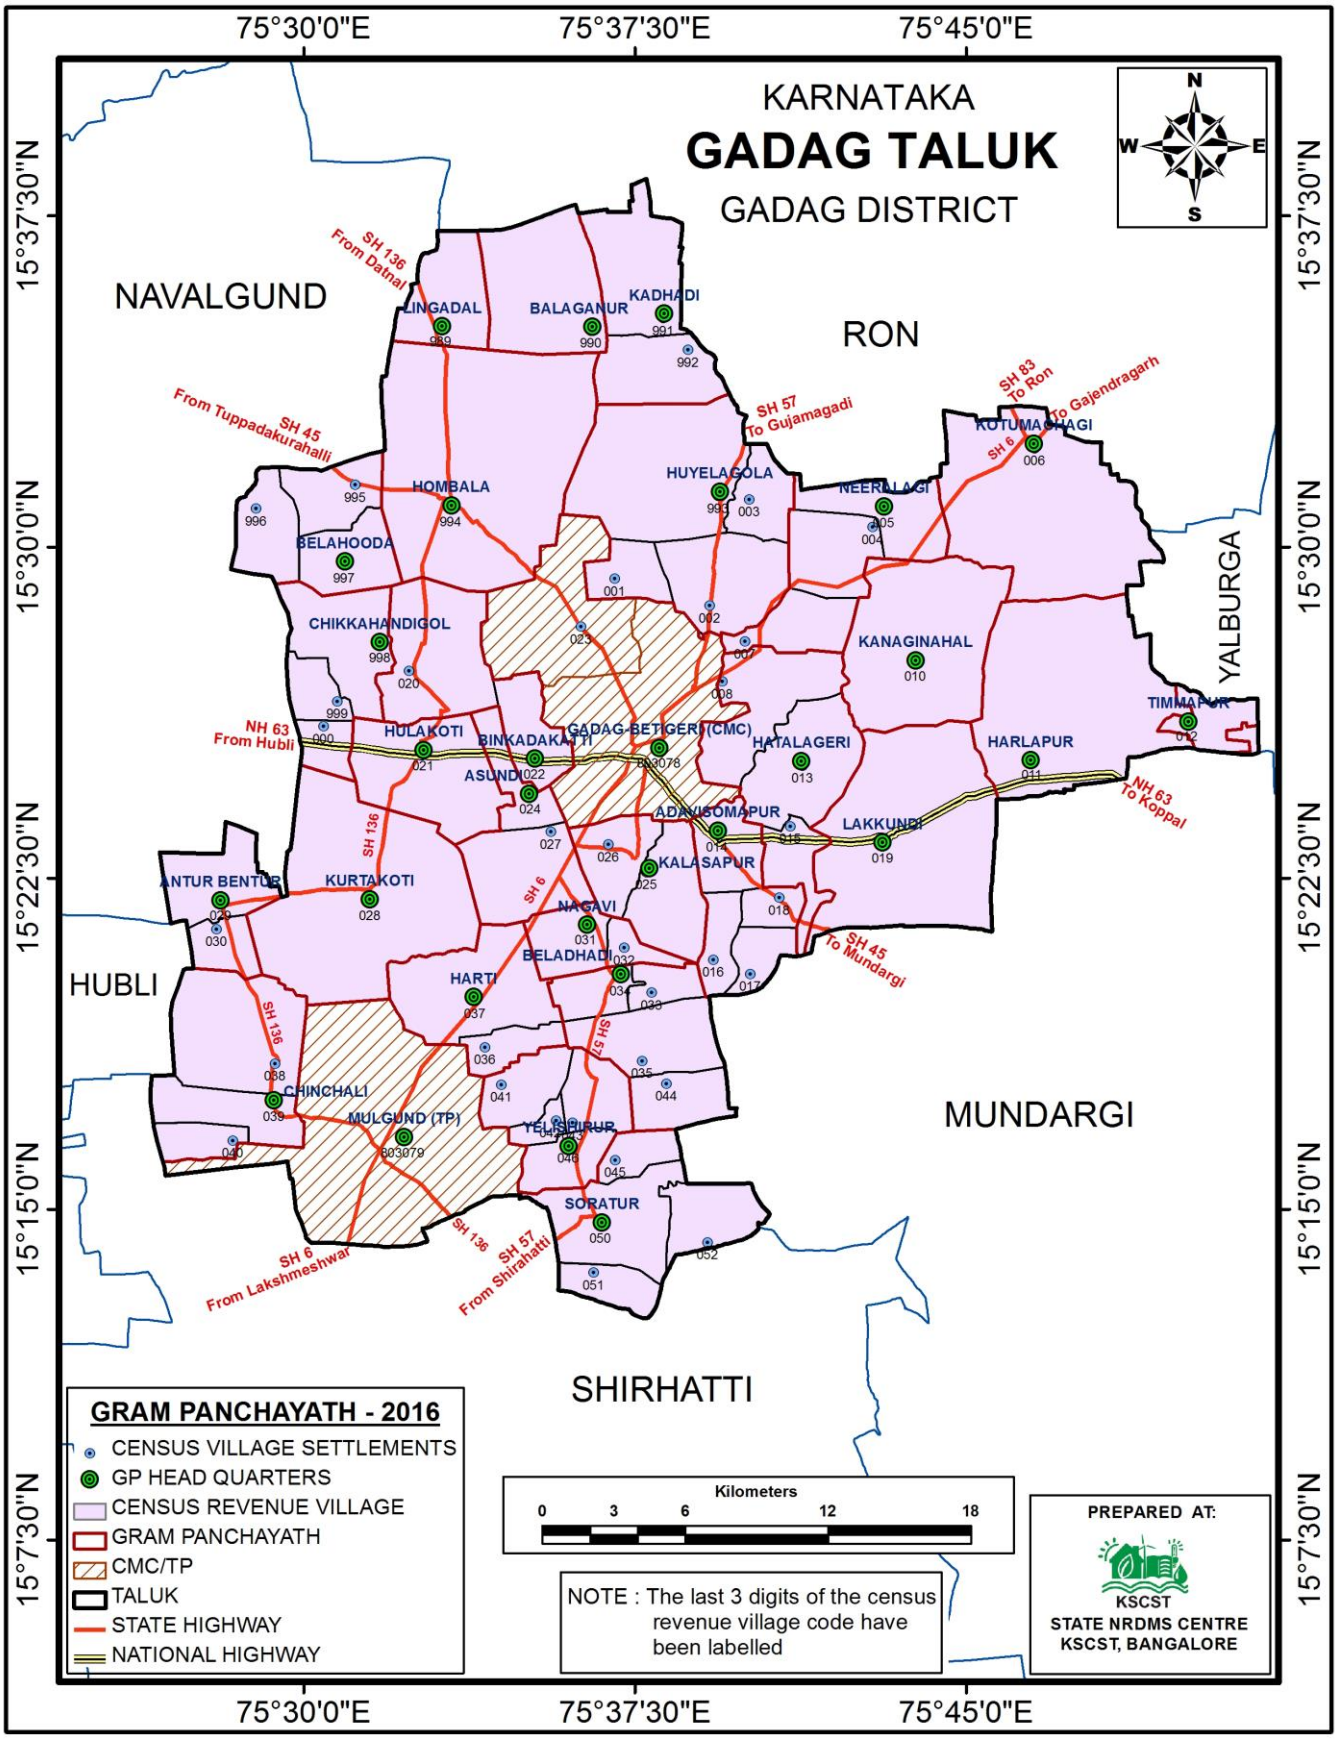

Gadag is the administrative headquarters of Gadag District. Gadag and its sister city Betageri have a combined city administration,Gadag immediately brings to mind the name of Naranappa, popularly known as Kumara Vyasa, the author of Karnata Bharata Kathamanjari. It is the classic Mahabharata in Kannada. Naranappa was born in the nearby village of Koliwada. He composed his work sitting before Lord Veera Narayana, his chosen deity.

Gadag, a district that lies in North Karnataka, was separated from Dharwad district in the year 1994. Gadag city is the district headquarters, and Gadag and its sister city Betagiri have a common city council. The twin cities are located 80 KM from Dharwad and 60 km from Hubli.

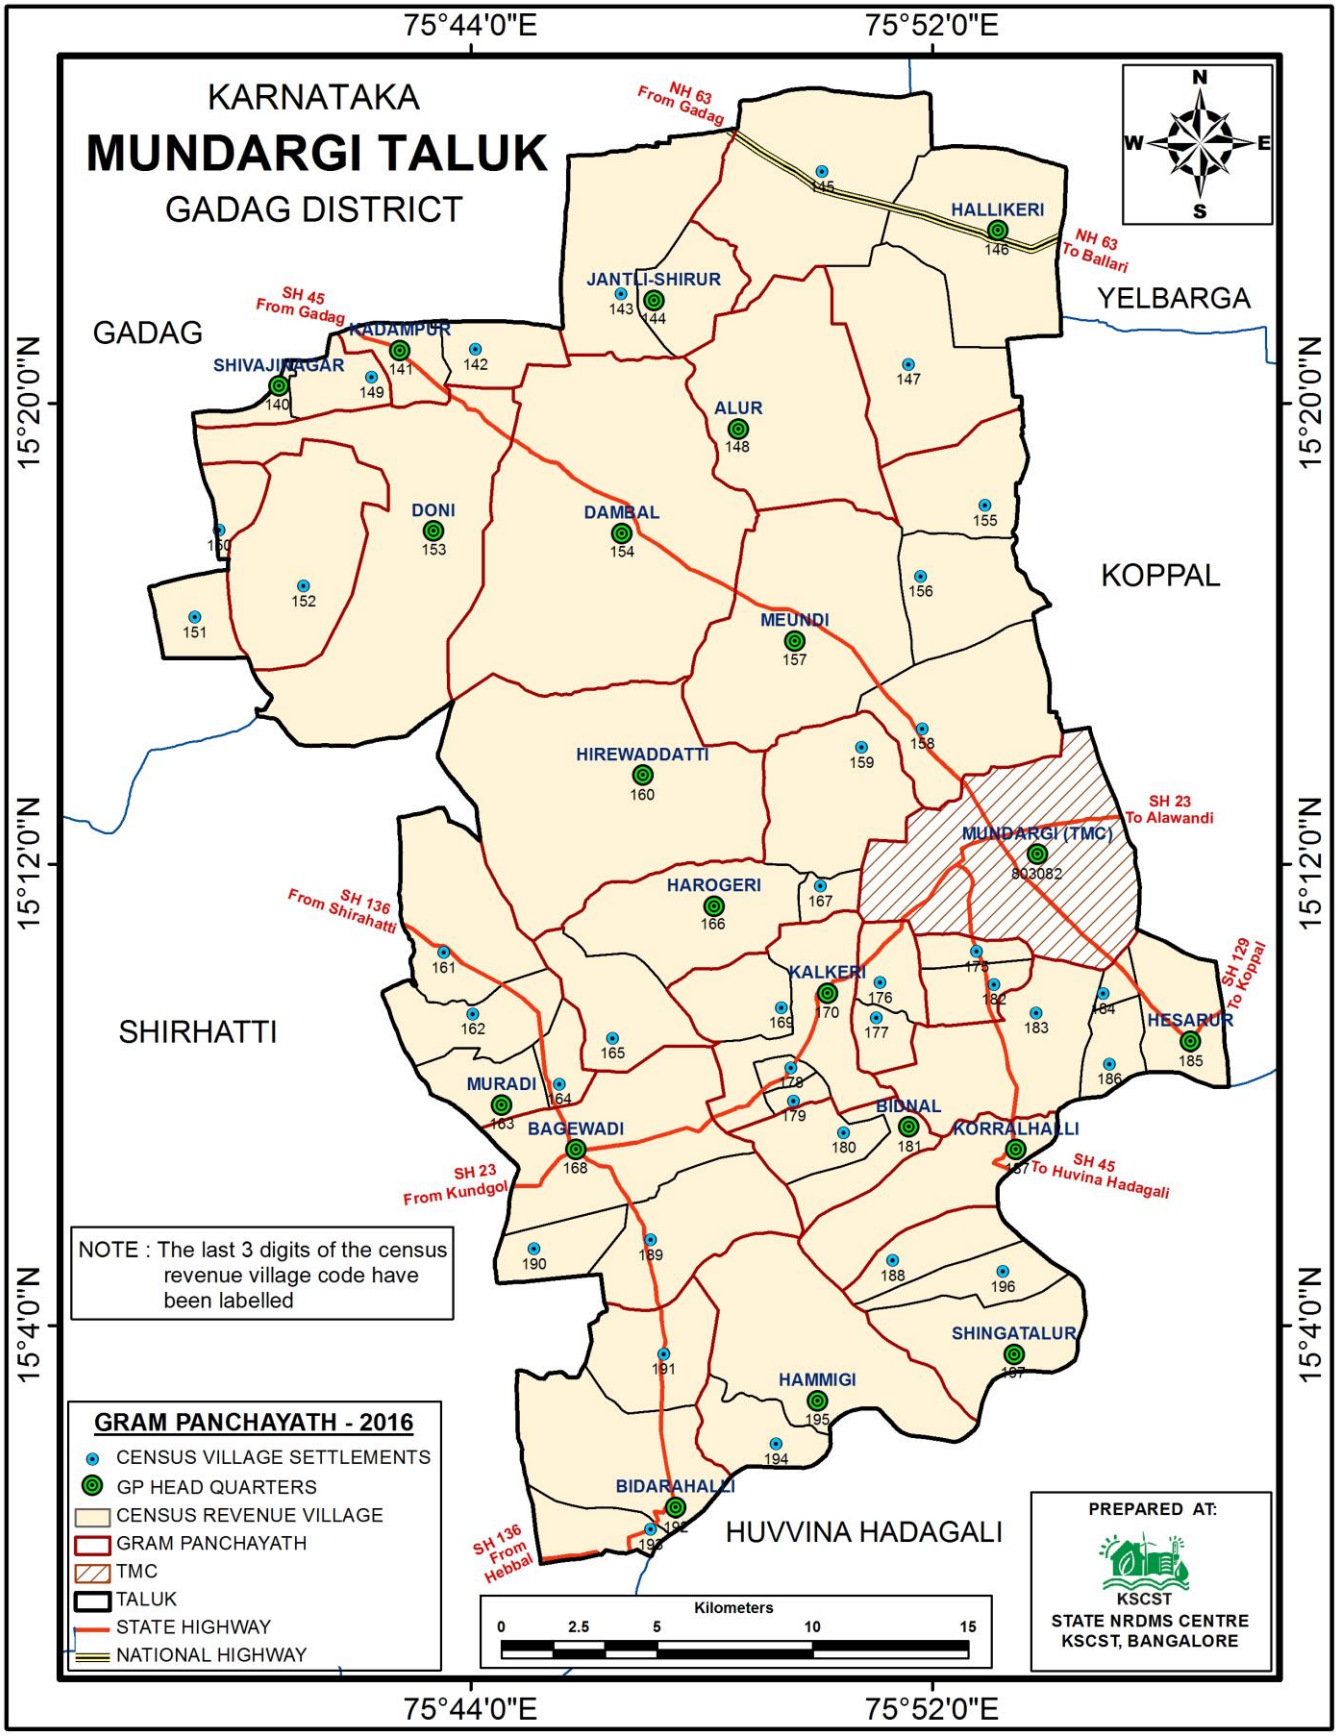

Gadag faces hot and humid summers and the region experiences heavy rains during the monsoon. The weather can get very hot during summer, and so, this is not a good time to visit the city. Winter is the best time to visit Gadag between the months of October to February.

VIJAYAPURA DISTRICT

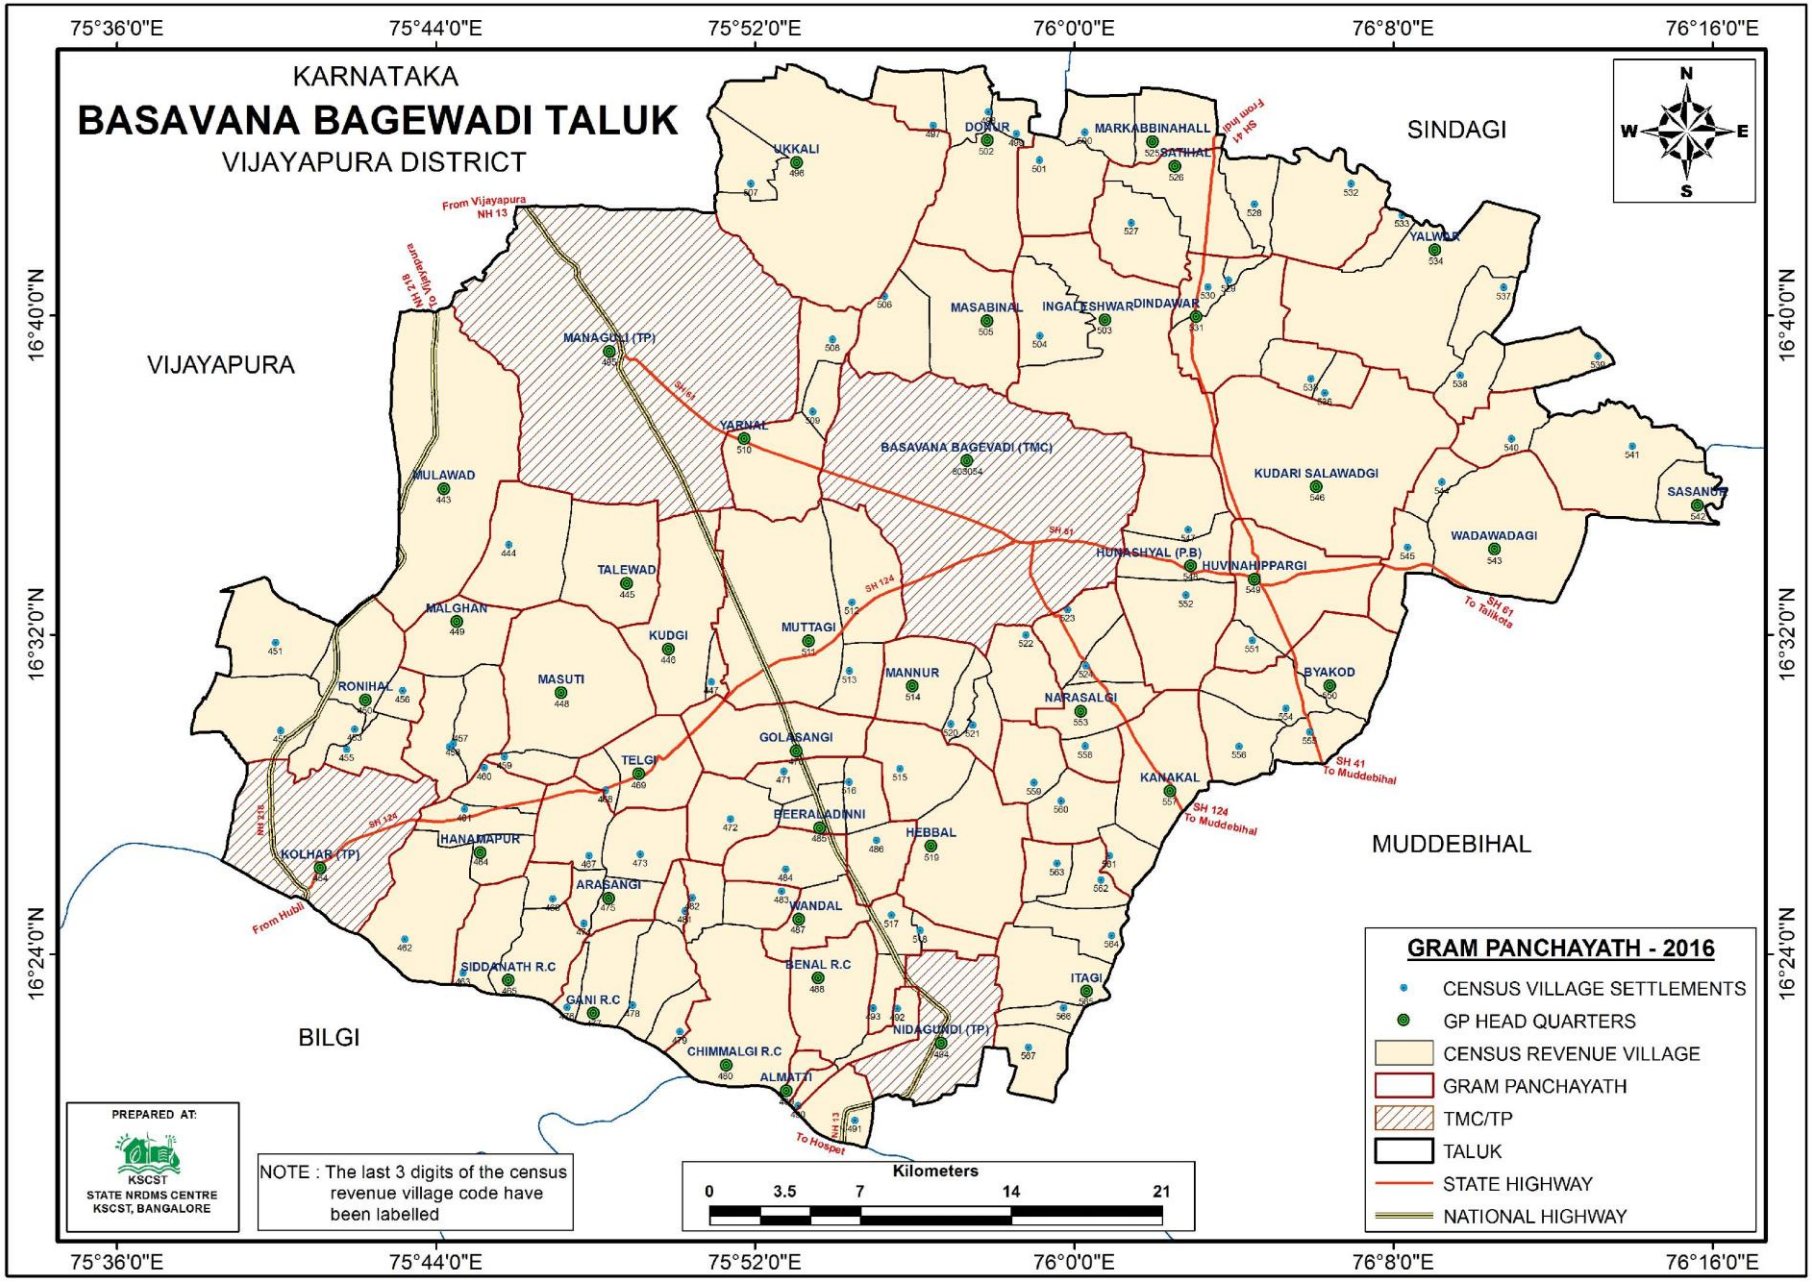

The foundation of this historic city was laid during the reign of the Chalukyan dynasty of Kalyani between the 10th and 11th centuries. They called it VIJAYAPURA or the City of Victory. Vijayapura experienced a great burst of architectural activity under the Adil Shahi dynasty. The Adil Shahis encouraged building activity to such an extent that Vijayapura itself has over 50 mosques, more than 20 tombs and a number of palaces. Vijayapura is mainly famous for Gol-Gumbaz, Jumma Masjid, Bara Kamaan, Gajanan Temple, Ibrahim Rauza, Taj Bawdi, Mallike-e Maidan, Methar Mahal, Gagan Mahal, Jala Manzil, Upli Buruj, Shivagiri, and Siddeshwar Temple etc

32 Members are elected from geographically demarcated constituencies from within the Rural Areas of the district. Member of Parliament of the district (One), State Legislative Assembly (8) & the State Legislative Council (2) Adhyaksha of the 5 Taluk Panchayats in the district.

Vijayapura is rich in historical attractions, mainly related to Islamic architecture, especially those of the Vijayapura Fort. Vijayapura is a town blessed by scattered ruins and still intact gems of the 15th to 17th century Muslim architecture.

BENGALURU RURAL DISTRICT

Bangalore Rural District came into existence on 1st August 1986 with the division of erstwhile Bangalore District into Bangalore Rural and Bangalore (Urban). Again Bangalore Rural District has been further bifurcated into Bangalore Rural and Ramanagar in 2007. The new district physically almost surrounds the northern side of the Bangalore (Urban) District opening Hoskote Taluk in the East, ends Nelamangala Taluk in the west. The headquarters of the new district is at Bangalore itself. The district occupied 16th place in size, in the State. Bangalore Rural District is located in the South-Eastern corner of Karnataka State. Spanning a Geographical area of 2,259 sq.km, the district lies stretched between the latitudinal parallels of 12’ 15’ N and 13’ 35’ N on the one hand and the longitudinal meridians of 77 05’ E and 78 E on the other. N.H.-4, N.H-7, N.H-48 and N.H-209 passes through the district. The Bangalore Rural District derives its name from its head quarters town, Bangalore and majority of the district consists of Rural Areas.

The major portion of Bangalore rural district lies in the Arkavati valley. The Arkavati and the Dakshina pinakini (southern Pennar) are the rivers which flow through the district in the general direction from north to south. The mean sea level of the district is at a difference of height between 629 to 950 mtr.

BENGALURU URBAN DISTRICT

Bengaluru Urban District has the distinction of being the Karnataka State Capital. State Legislature and High Court are in its jurisdiction. It is the nerve centre of Karnataka State's Legislative, Judicial and Executive Administration.

The district is the Principal Administrative unit below the state level. The Deputy Commissioner, being the head of the District Administration, is perhaps the only officer vested with powers under largest number of both Central and State Laws. The D.C. office comes in direct contact with the people and people's representatives at various levels. The office of the Deputy Commissioner apart from having many original works enumerated under different Acts and Rules has got the supervisory and coordinating roles at the district level. Apart from regulatory functions, the Deputy Commissioner guides and coordinates the developmental activities of the district.

CHITRADURGA DISTRICT

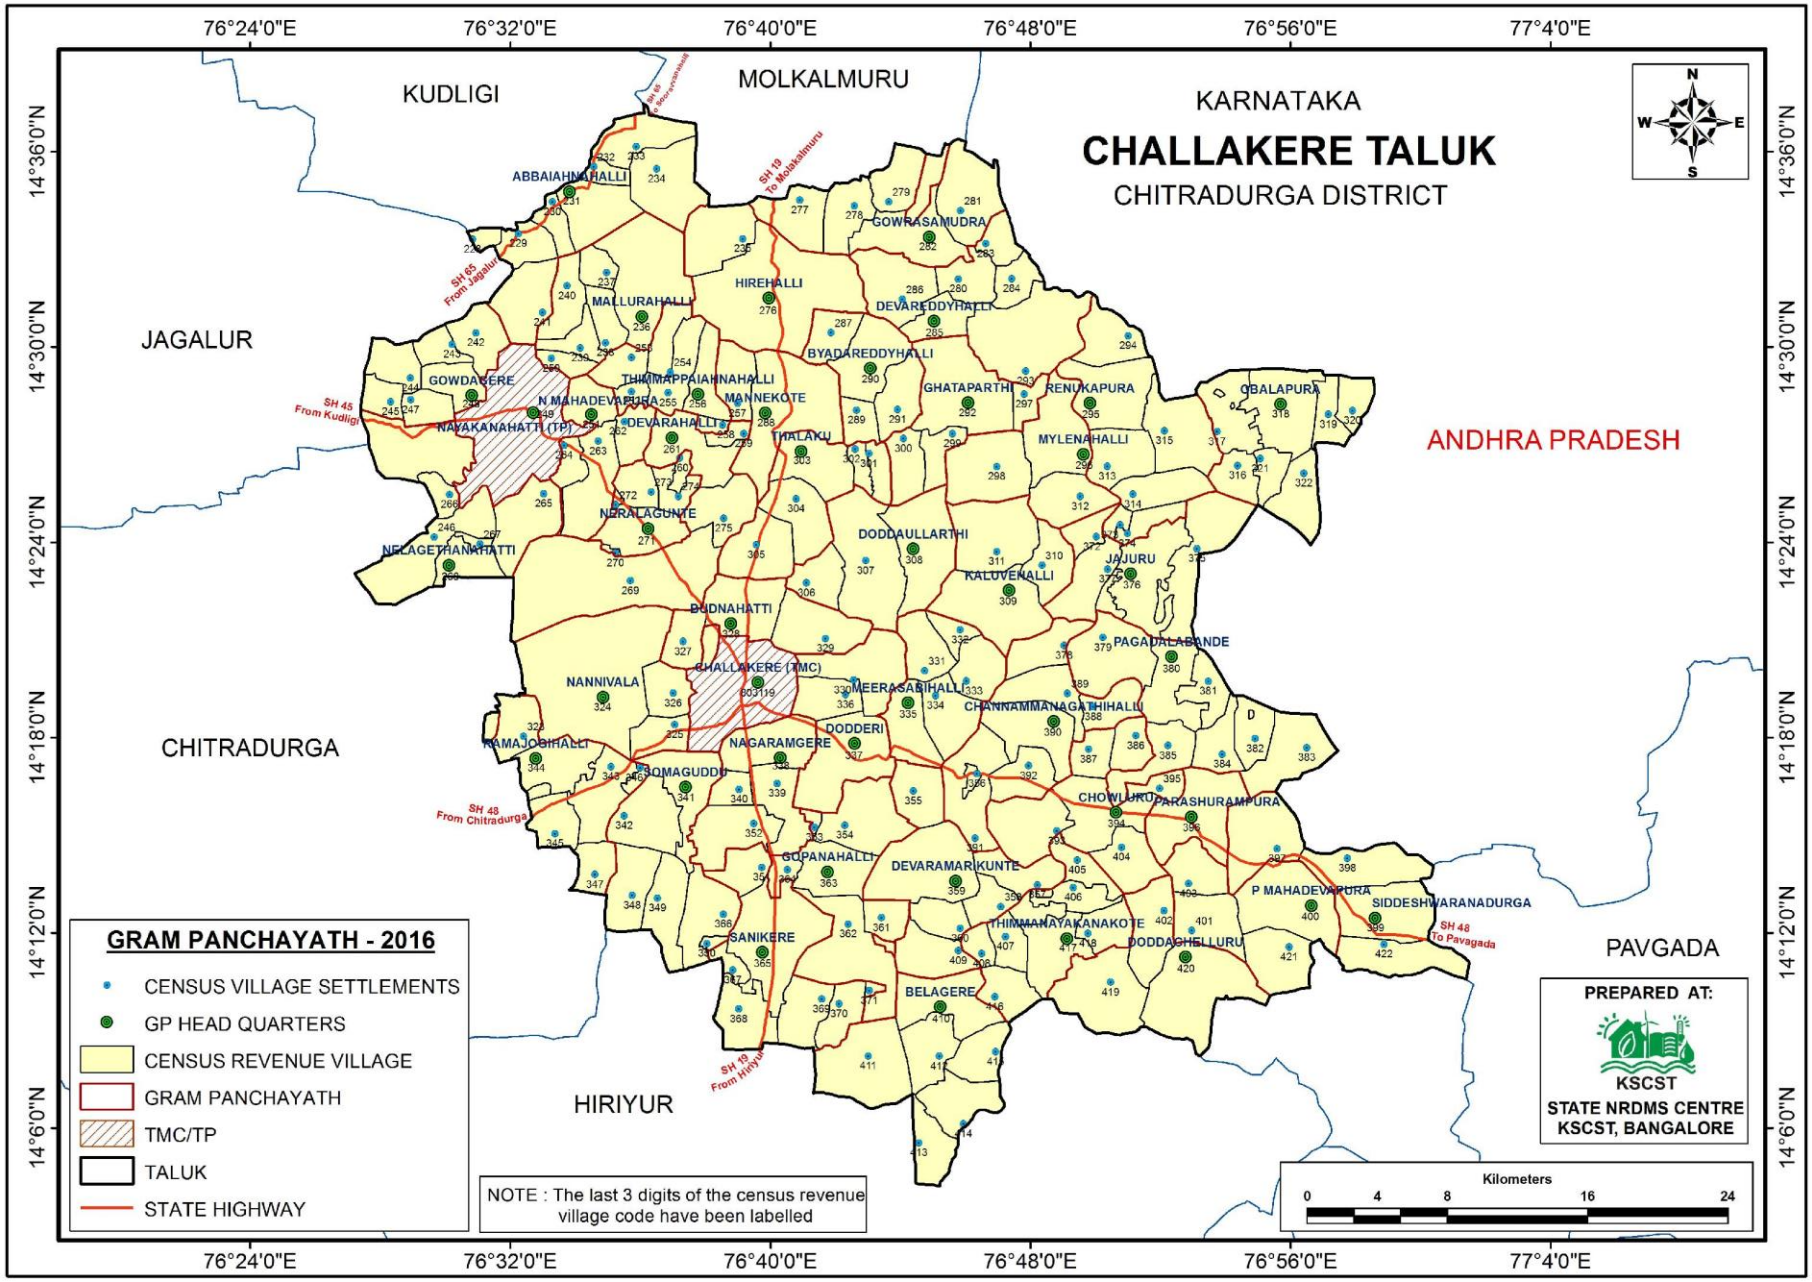

CHITRADURGA Located at a distance of 202 kms Northwest of Bangalore, in the heart of the Deccan Plateau, Chitradurga is recognized as the land of valour and chivalry. The district headquarters town, Chitradurga owes its name to “Chitrakaladurga,” or “Picturesque castle”.

The district is hilly, with lots of forts and villages. The district is bounded by Tumkur District to the southeast and south, Chikmagalur District to the southwest, Davanagere District to the west, Bellary District to the north, and Anantapur District of Andhra Pradesh state to the east. Davanagere District was formerly part of Chitradurga. The district is divided into Six taluks, namely Chitradurga, Hiriyur, Hosadurga, Holalkere, Challakere and Molakalmuru. It is rich in mineral deposits, including gold prospecting at Halekal, Kotemardi or Bedimaradi, etc., and open cast copper mines at Ingaldhal.

Government of India, Ministry of Communications & Information Technology National Informatics Centre (NIC), Chitradurga, a unit of Premier IT organisation of the country was established in the year 1988 with an aim to provide computerisation support to the local government system

SHIVAMOGGA DISTRICT

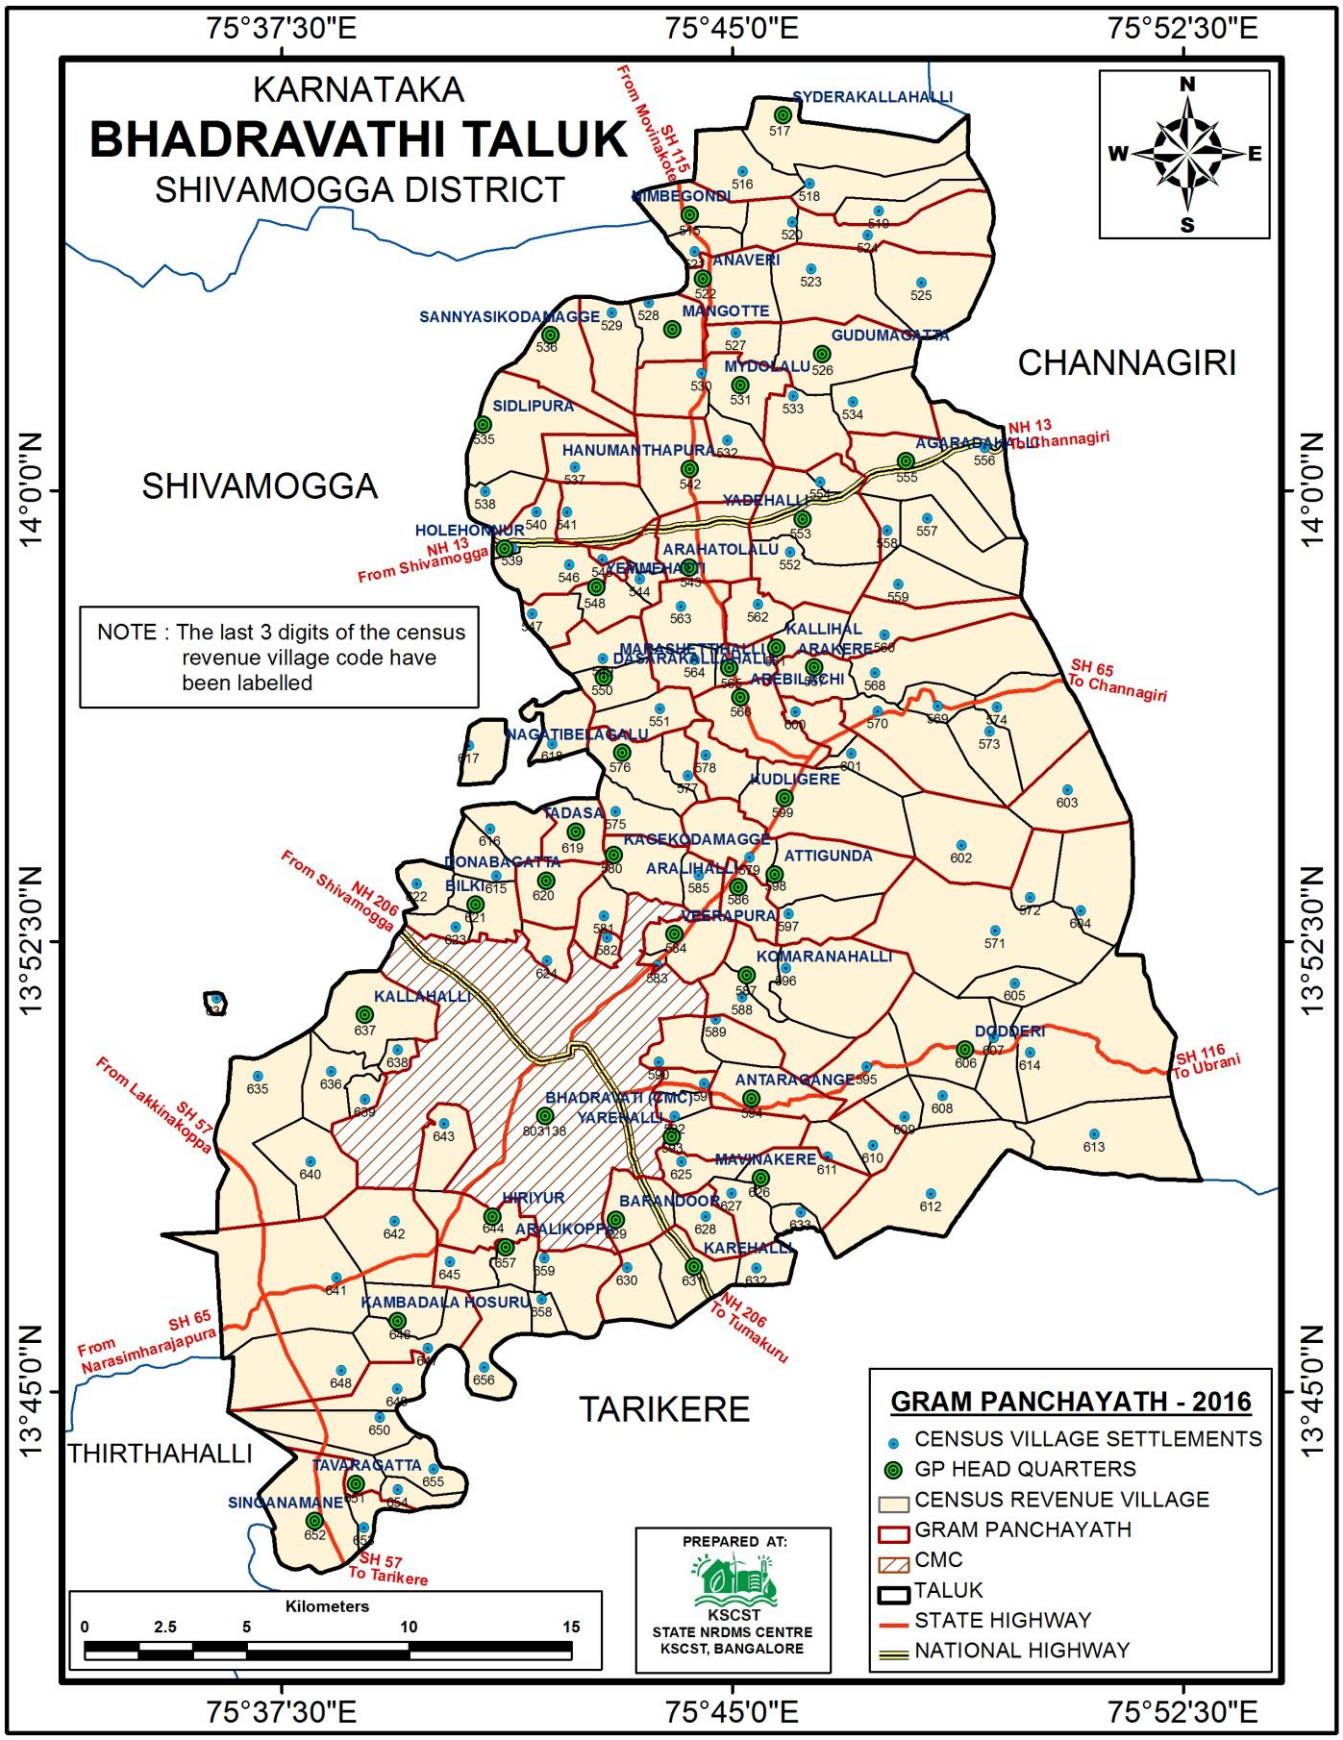

Shivamogga is a true picture of nature's bounty-landscapes dotted with waterfalls, swaying palms and lush paddy fields make for picturesque locales. Shivamogga, almost central on the Karnataka map is the rice bowl of the State. The rivers Tungabhadra, Sharavathi, Varada and Kumudavathi inundate the luxuriant greens of the region. Shivamogga was ruled by the great Indian dynasties of the Kadambas, Gangas, Chalukyas, Rastrakutas, Keladi and Vijaynagar Kings. Shivamogga (Face of Shiva) was established by the Keladi rulers. It reached its pinnacle during the rule of Shivappa Nayaka around 1600 A D.

The Sahyadri ranges, part of the Western Ghats, feed the rivers round the year, and inundate the fertile alluvial soil; this nature's blessing makes it the bread basket of Karnataka. The Sharavathi Hydel Project and Varahi Project provide a substantial portion of the state's power. needs.

Today, Shivamogga is more than just a tourist destination. Its rich tradition in education, fine arts and culture remain deeply etched in its people and place. The enchanting natural scenery of hills, hillocks and green dales, rivers and streams, dense forests, flora & fauna, forts, temples historical places, sandalwood and spices.

TUMAKURU DISTRICT

Tumakuru district is located in the eastern belt in the southern half of the Slate. Spanning an area of 10,598 sq.km. This district lies between the latitudinal parallels of 12°45' North and 14°22' North and the longitudinal parallels of 76°24' East and 77°30' East. The shape of the district is somewhat irregular and has a peculiar feature in that the north-eastern portion is totally detached from the remaining areas of the district. This portion constituting Pavagada taluk is almost surrounded on all sides by territories belonging to AndhraPradesh, But for the fact that on its; western border for a very short stretch it touches Chitradurga district, Pavagada would have been an enclave territory. Tumakuru district is bounded on the north by Anantpur district of Andhra Pradesh; on the east by the districts of Kolar and Bengaluru; on the south by Mandya district and on the west and north-west by the districts of Hassan and Chitradurga. In the mid-west, Chikkamagaluru district too touches this district and shares a common border though only for a very short distance. Shimsha, Jayamangali and Suvarnamukhi are the important rivers of the district. Geologically, Tumakuru district is situated right on the archaen complex. The rock formations are represented by the crystalline schists, the granitic gneisses and the newer granites. The climate of the district is quite aggreable /and free from. Extremes, However, amongst the taluks, Pavagada which is located in the north-cast is noted for its relatively hot climate. The average annual rainfall in the district is 687.9 mm. This amount of rainfall is subject to considerable fluctuations from year to year.

BALLARI DISTRICT

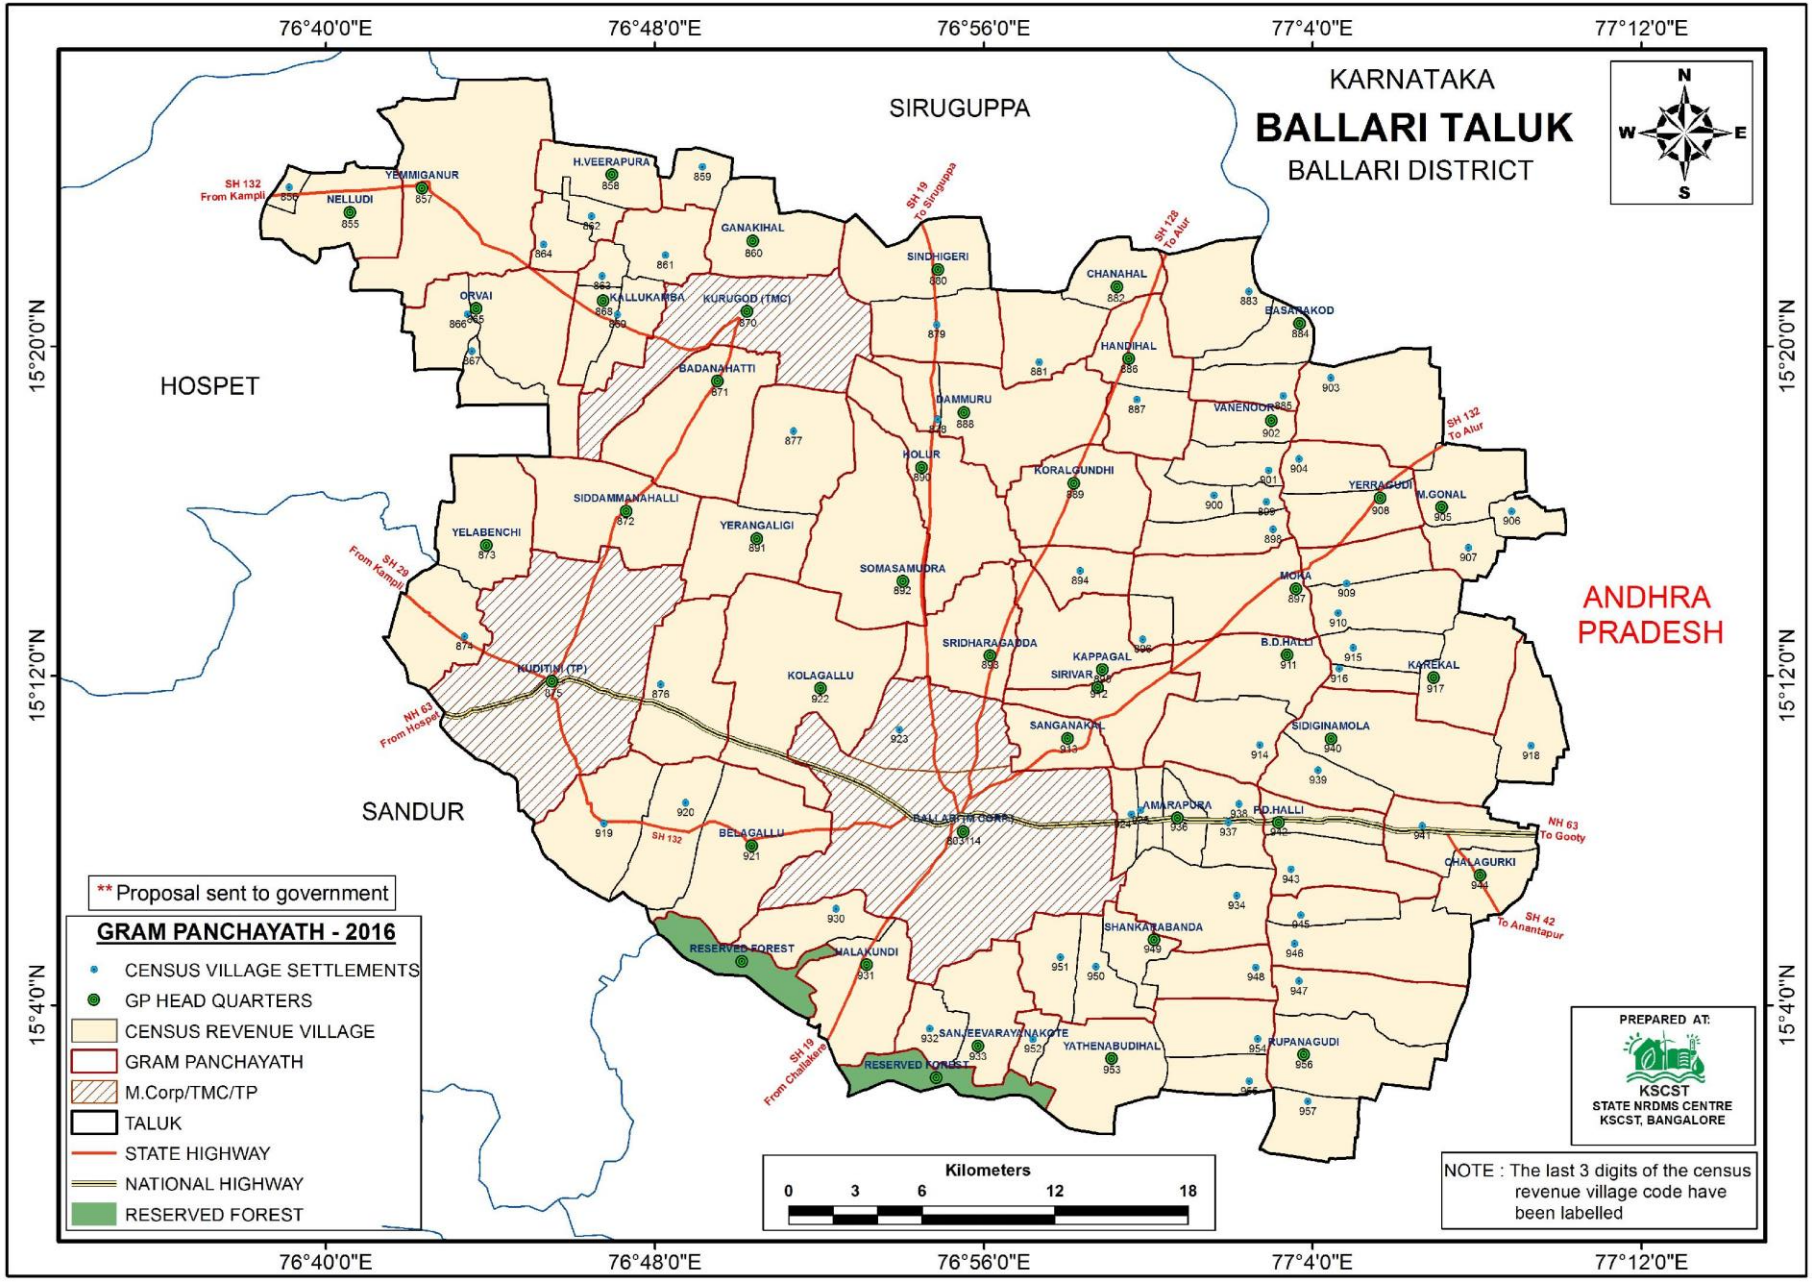

Ballari district takes its name from the word Balari which refers to goddess Durugamma as this goddess had manifested herself in the town. There upon the Vijayanagara rulers built the "City of Victory" on the bank of Tungabhadra River at Hampi in Hospet Taluk. This area which had witnessed the prosperity to its peak fell into political turmoil after the fall of Vijayanagara in 1565. This district was transferred to the erstwhile Mysore State on 1st October 1953 from Madras State. With the re-organisation of the districts during 1997, the number of taluks is reduced to 7. The Harapanahalli taluk has been transferred to Davanagere district.

Ballari district is spread from southwest to northeast and is situated on the eastern side of Karnataka state. The district is 15° 30' and 15°50' north latitude and 75° 40' and 77° 11' east longitude. This district is bounded by Raichur district on the north, Koppal district on the west, Chitradurga and Davanagere districts on the south, and Anantapur and Kurnool districts of Andhra Pradesh on the east. It comes under the administrative control of Gulbarga division and development jurisdiction of H.K.D.B, Gulbarga.

The important crops grown are cotton, jowar, groundnut, paddy, sunflower and cereals. The net irrigated area is 37% to the net area sown. The main source of irrigation is Tungabhadra Dam. The Canal network accounts for 64% of irrigated area.

BIDAR DISTRICT

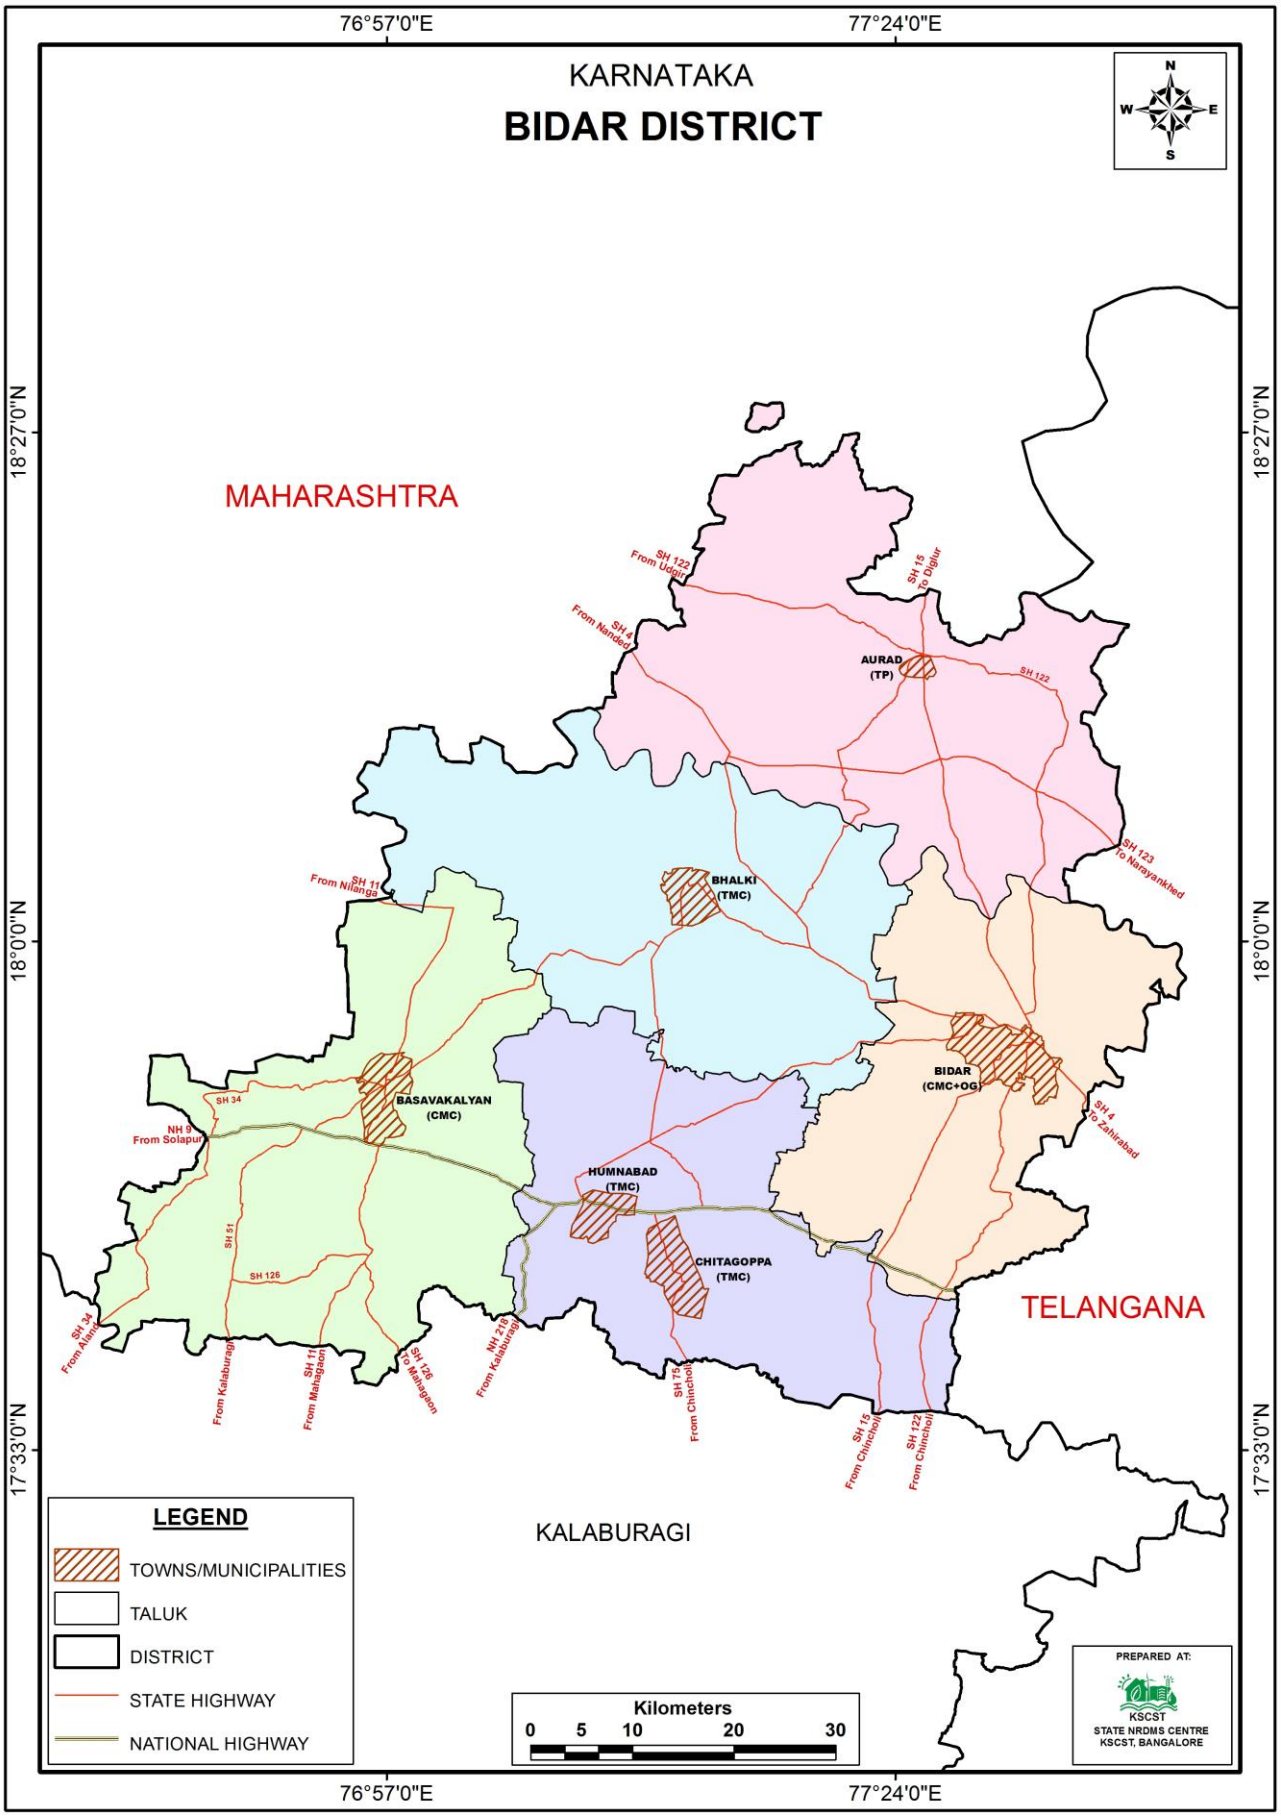

The name of Bidar appears to be derived from 'bidiru' which means bamboo. The place seems to have been known for bamboo clusters in the past, came to be known as 'Bidaroor' and then 'Bidare', 'Bidar'. Though there are other versions of origin, the name 'Bidarooru' seems to be more near one and authenticated by contemporary literary works. Bidar is a hill-top city situated on the deccan plateau, in the north-eastern part of Karnataka state in India. It is the headquarters of the Bidar District

Being located at the farthest of around 700 km (430 mi) from the state capital Bengaluru, it has been neglected by the state government for a long time. However, owing to its rich heritage, the city has a prominent place in the Archaeological Map of India. Picturesquely perched on the Deccan plateau, the Bidar fort is more than 500 years old and still standing strong. According to the book "Bidar Heritage" published by the state Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage, of the 61 monuments listed by the department, about 30 are tombs located in and around Bidar city. This explains the nickname - The City of Whispering Monuments. The heritage sites in and around Bidar have become the major attraction for film shooting in recent years with Bollywood making visits apart from kannada film industry. Bidar is home for the second biggest Indian Air Force training centre in the country. The IAF Station Bidar is used for advanced jet training of prospective fighter pilots on BAe Hawk aircraft.

Bidar city is known for its Bidri handicraft products, and its rich history. Bidar is also considered one of the holiest places for Sikh pilgrimage. Unlike other places in the region, Bidar is the coldest and wettest place in north Karnataka. For the year 2009-10, Bidar was ranked 22nd among the cleanest cities in India and 5th cleanest in Karnataka. SH4 passes through Bidar and the whole city is integrated with 4 lane road.

Ancient Karez System in the city has been recently discovered. The Karez (Qanat) is an underground network of aqueducts for water supply. The Bidar Karez, built in the 15th century, is more than 3 km (1.9 mi) long with 21 air vents. Underground canals, built to connect underground water streams, were meant to provide drinking water to civilian settlements and the garrison inside the Bidar fort. This was necessary in a city where the soil was rocky and drilling wells was difficult.

KALABURAGI DISTRICT

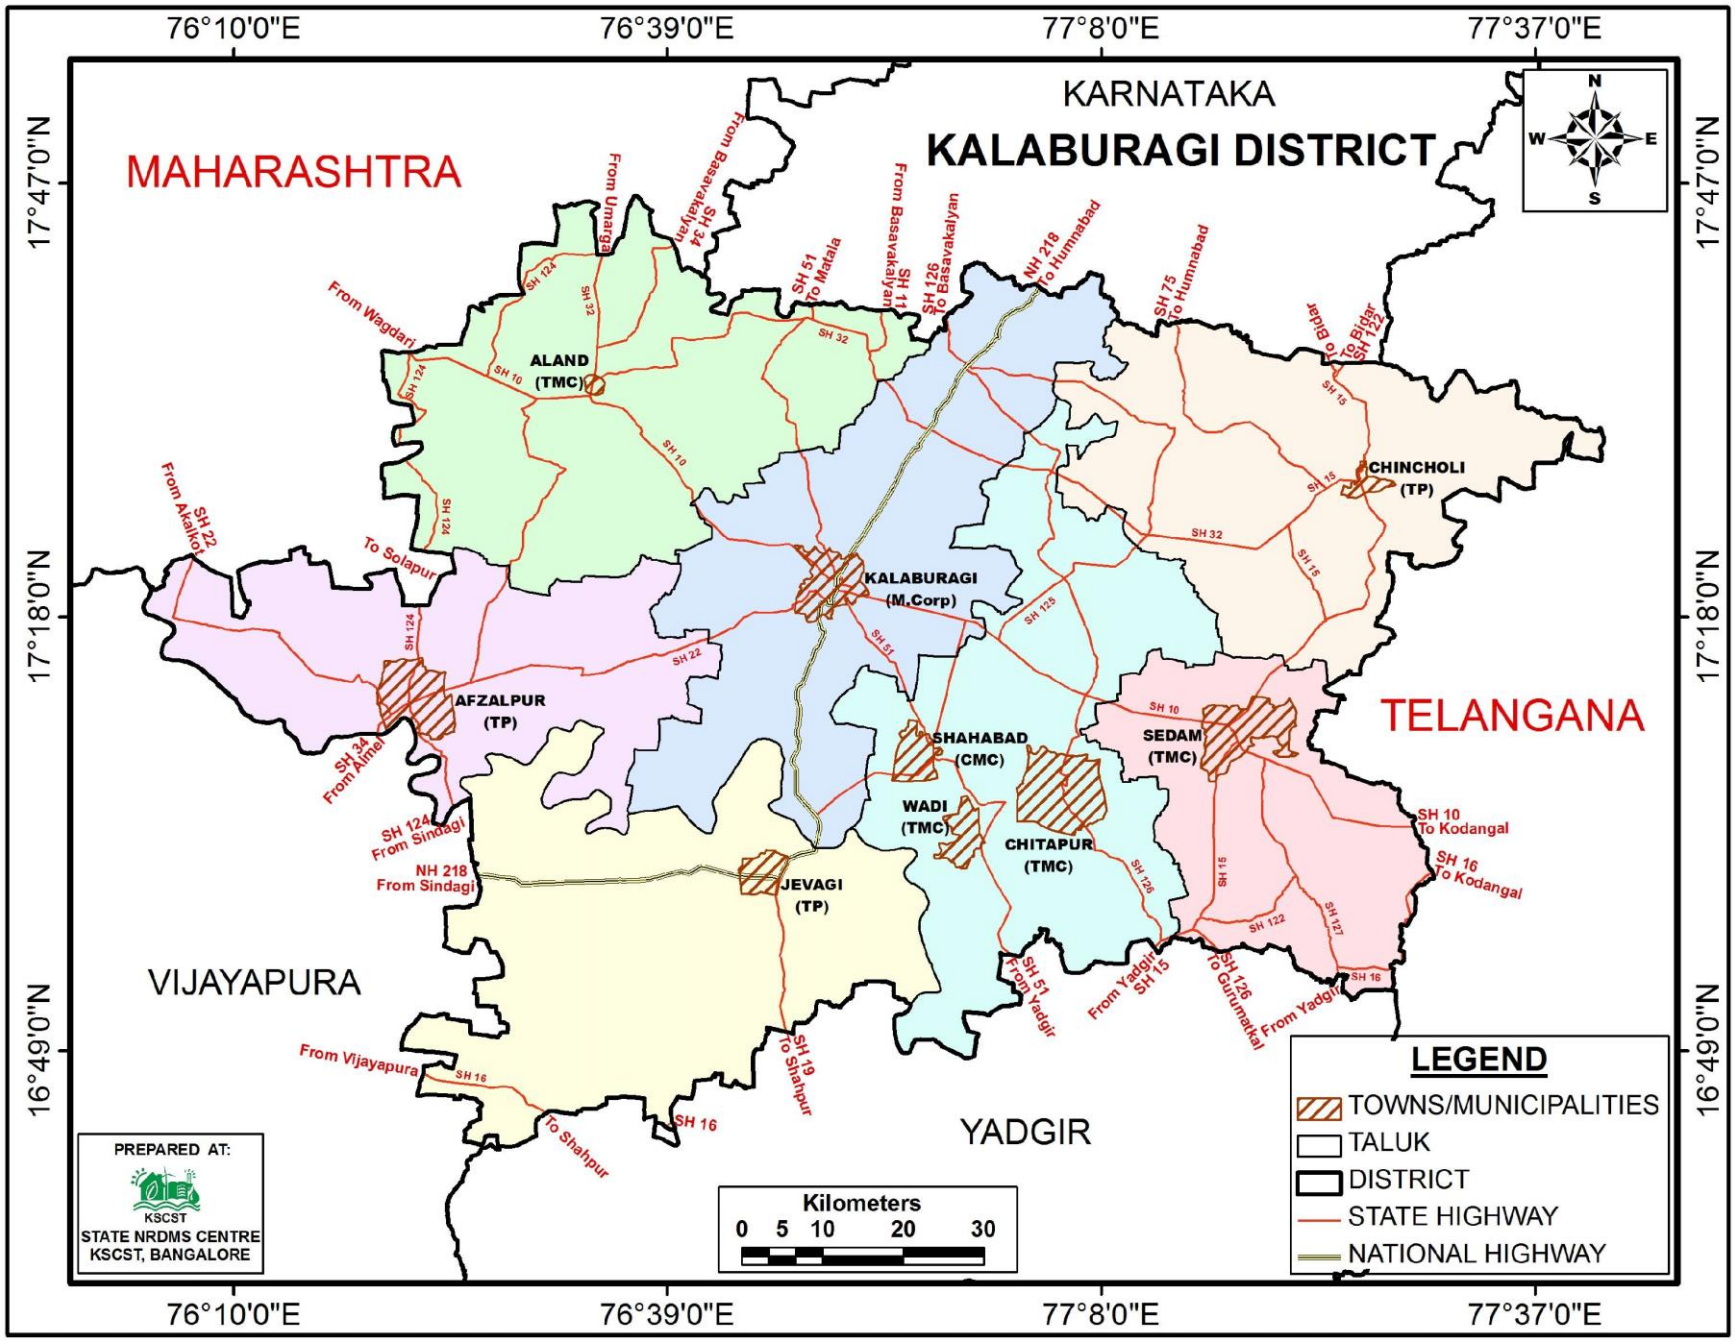

Kalaburagi district is on of the three districts that were transferred from Hyderabad State to Karnataka state at the time of re-organization of the state in 1956. It is located in the Northern part of the state and lies between North latitude 17°10' and 17°45' and between east longitude 76°10' and 77°45'. In the earlier days, Gulbarga was a district of Hyderabad Karnataka area and became a part of Karnataka State after re-organization of states.

Gulbarga is 613 Km north of Bangalore and well connected by road to Bijapur, Hyderabad and Bidar. Train from southern part of India to Mumbai and Delhi passes through Gulbarga. Shri Kshetra Gangapur a well known pilgrimage of God Shri Sadguru Dattarya is very close from Gulbarga. The climate of the district is generally dry and healthy with temperature ranging from 5c to 45c and an annual rainfall of about 750mm. The entire district is situated in Deccan Plateau and the general elevation ranges from 300 to 750 meters above MSL.

Two main rivers, Krishna and Bhima, flow in the district. The predominant type of soil in the district is black soil. The district has a large number of tanks which in addition to the river irrigate the land. The Upper Krishna Project is major irrigational venture in the district. Jowar, groundnut, rice, and pulses are the main crops. Gulbarga an industrially backward district is presently showing signs of growth in the Cement, textile, leather and chemical industries sectors. Gulbarga has a University with Medical and Engineering Colleges.

The district has total area of 16174 Sq. Kms. This constitutes 5.93% of the area of the state. The region is characterized by black cotton soil, expanses of flat treeless surface, a range of hills covering a surface of about 60 miles and same lower belts following the main rivers. The district is devoid of forest except in the hilly portion of Aland and Chincholi. The area under forest is 4.2% of the total area.

KOPPAL DISTRICT

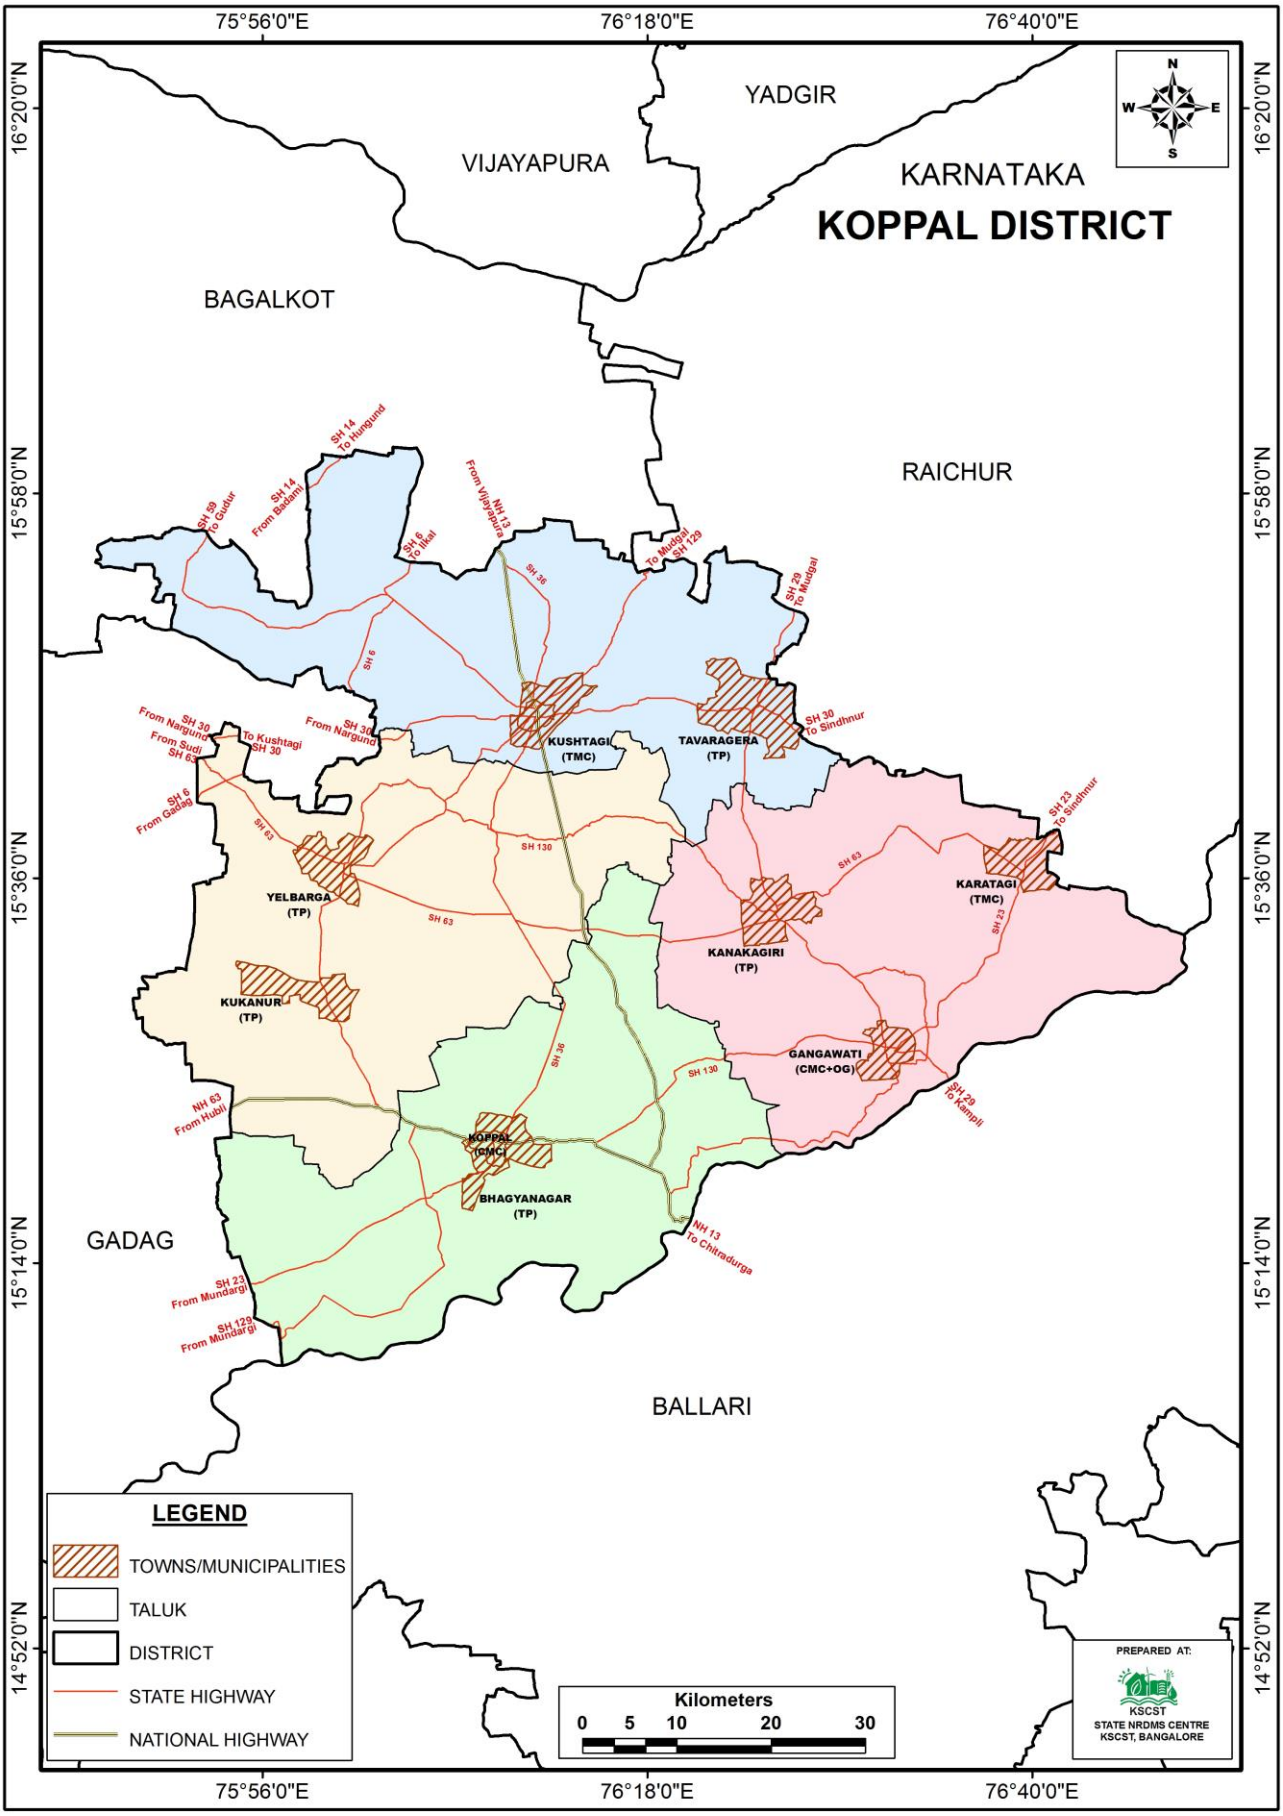

Koppal, a newborn district of Karnataka state, carved out of Raichur District, came into existance on 1998. It is situated between 15° 09' 00" to 16° 03' 30" North Latitude and 75° 47' 30" to 76° 48' 10" East Longitude. Koppal district headquarters is closest to the world heritage Hampi. Koppal District located in the northern interior of Karnataka has an area of 8,458 sq km.

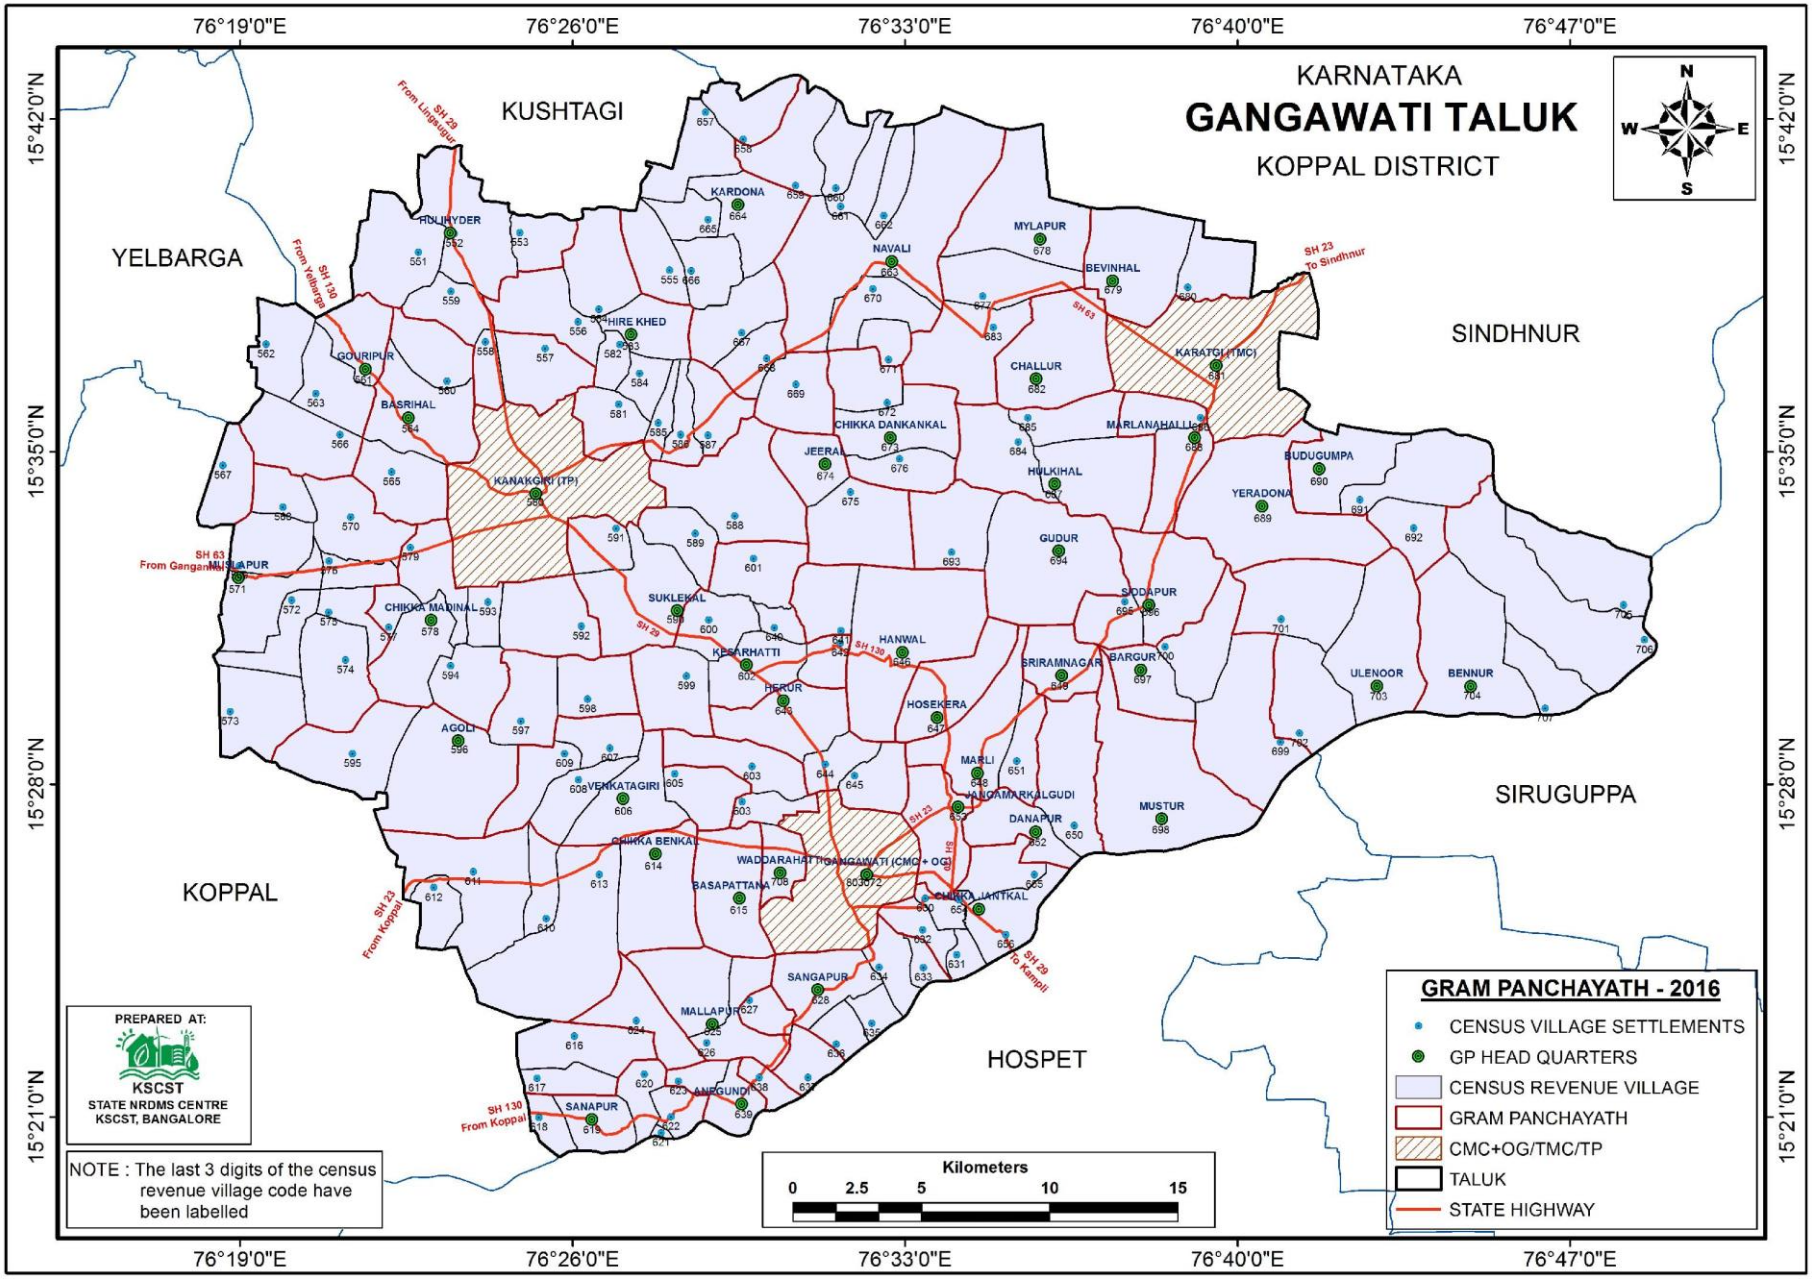

The history of Koppal can be traced back to the kingdoms of Shathavahanas, Gangas, Hoysalas and Chalukya Dynasties. The name of the district i.e. "KOPPAL" is found in the poetic work of the great poet Kavirajamarga (During King Nrupathunga's time of 814-878 A.D.) as "VIDITHA MAHA KOPANA NAGARA".

The Tungabhadra river is formed by union of two rivers, viz., the Tunga and the Bhadra, both of which rise at Gangamula in the Varaha Parvata of the Western Ghats. This is also a perennial river, very deep in certain places and almost unfordable even in the dry season.

The total geographical area of Koppal district is 552495 hectares out of which forest area is 29451 hectares. Land not available for cultivation is 55497 hectares. Area sown is 396627 hectares.

RAICHUR DISTRICT

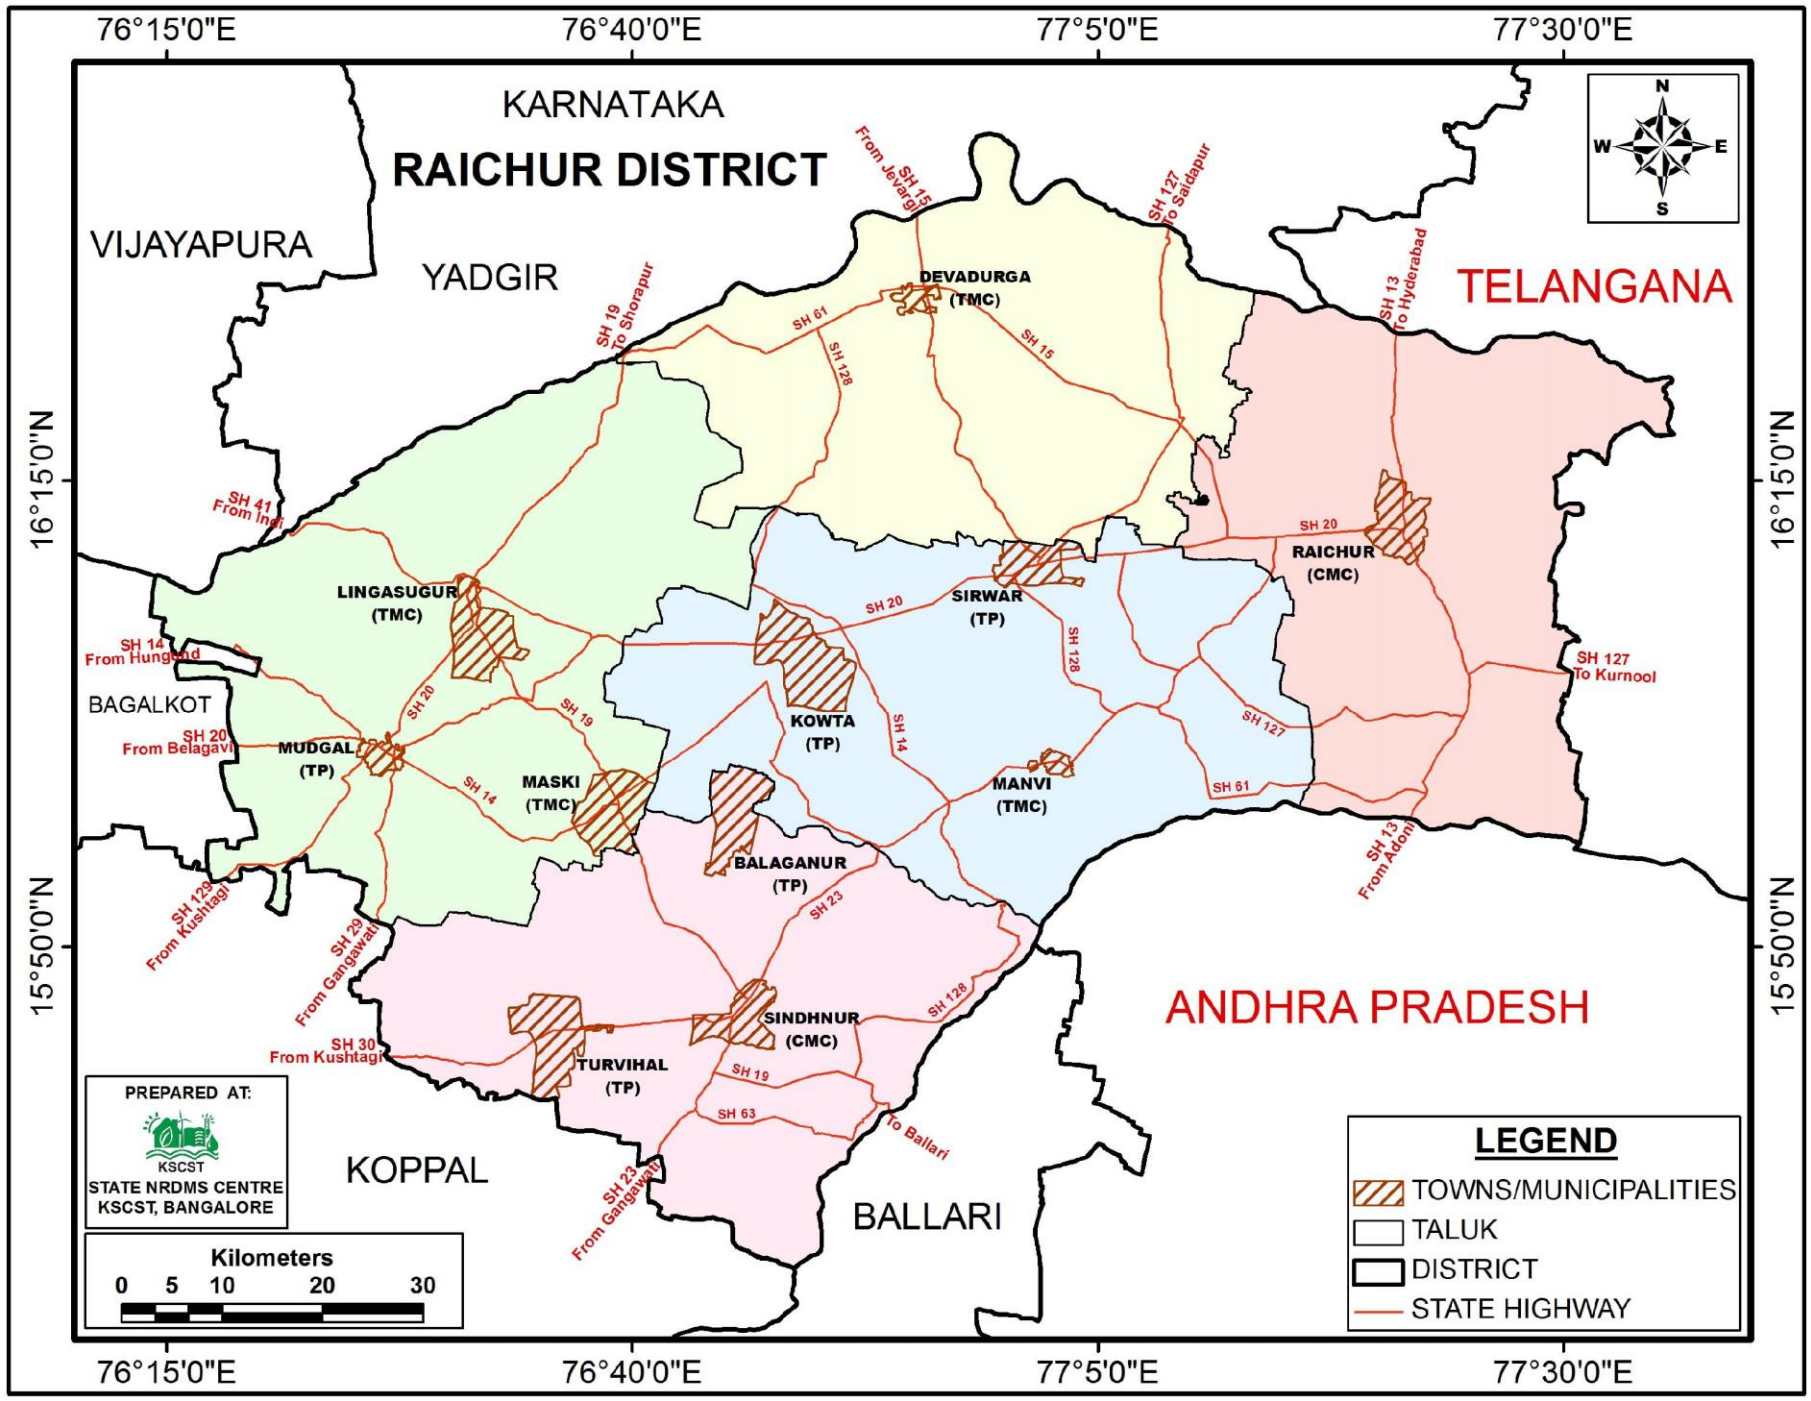

The district derives its name from its headquarters town Raichur (origin of name Rayachooru in Kannada), as do most of the other districts also in the State. Though many of the villagers' roundabouts still call the place by the earlier from of the name which is Rayachooru, however, in modern times, it has come to be generally written and pronounced in Kannada as Rayachooru. The name of this place which is of considerable antiquity can be traced back to the Twelfth Century at least.

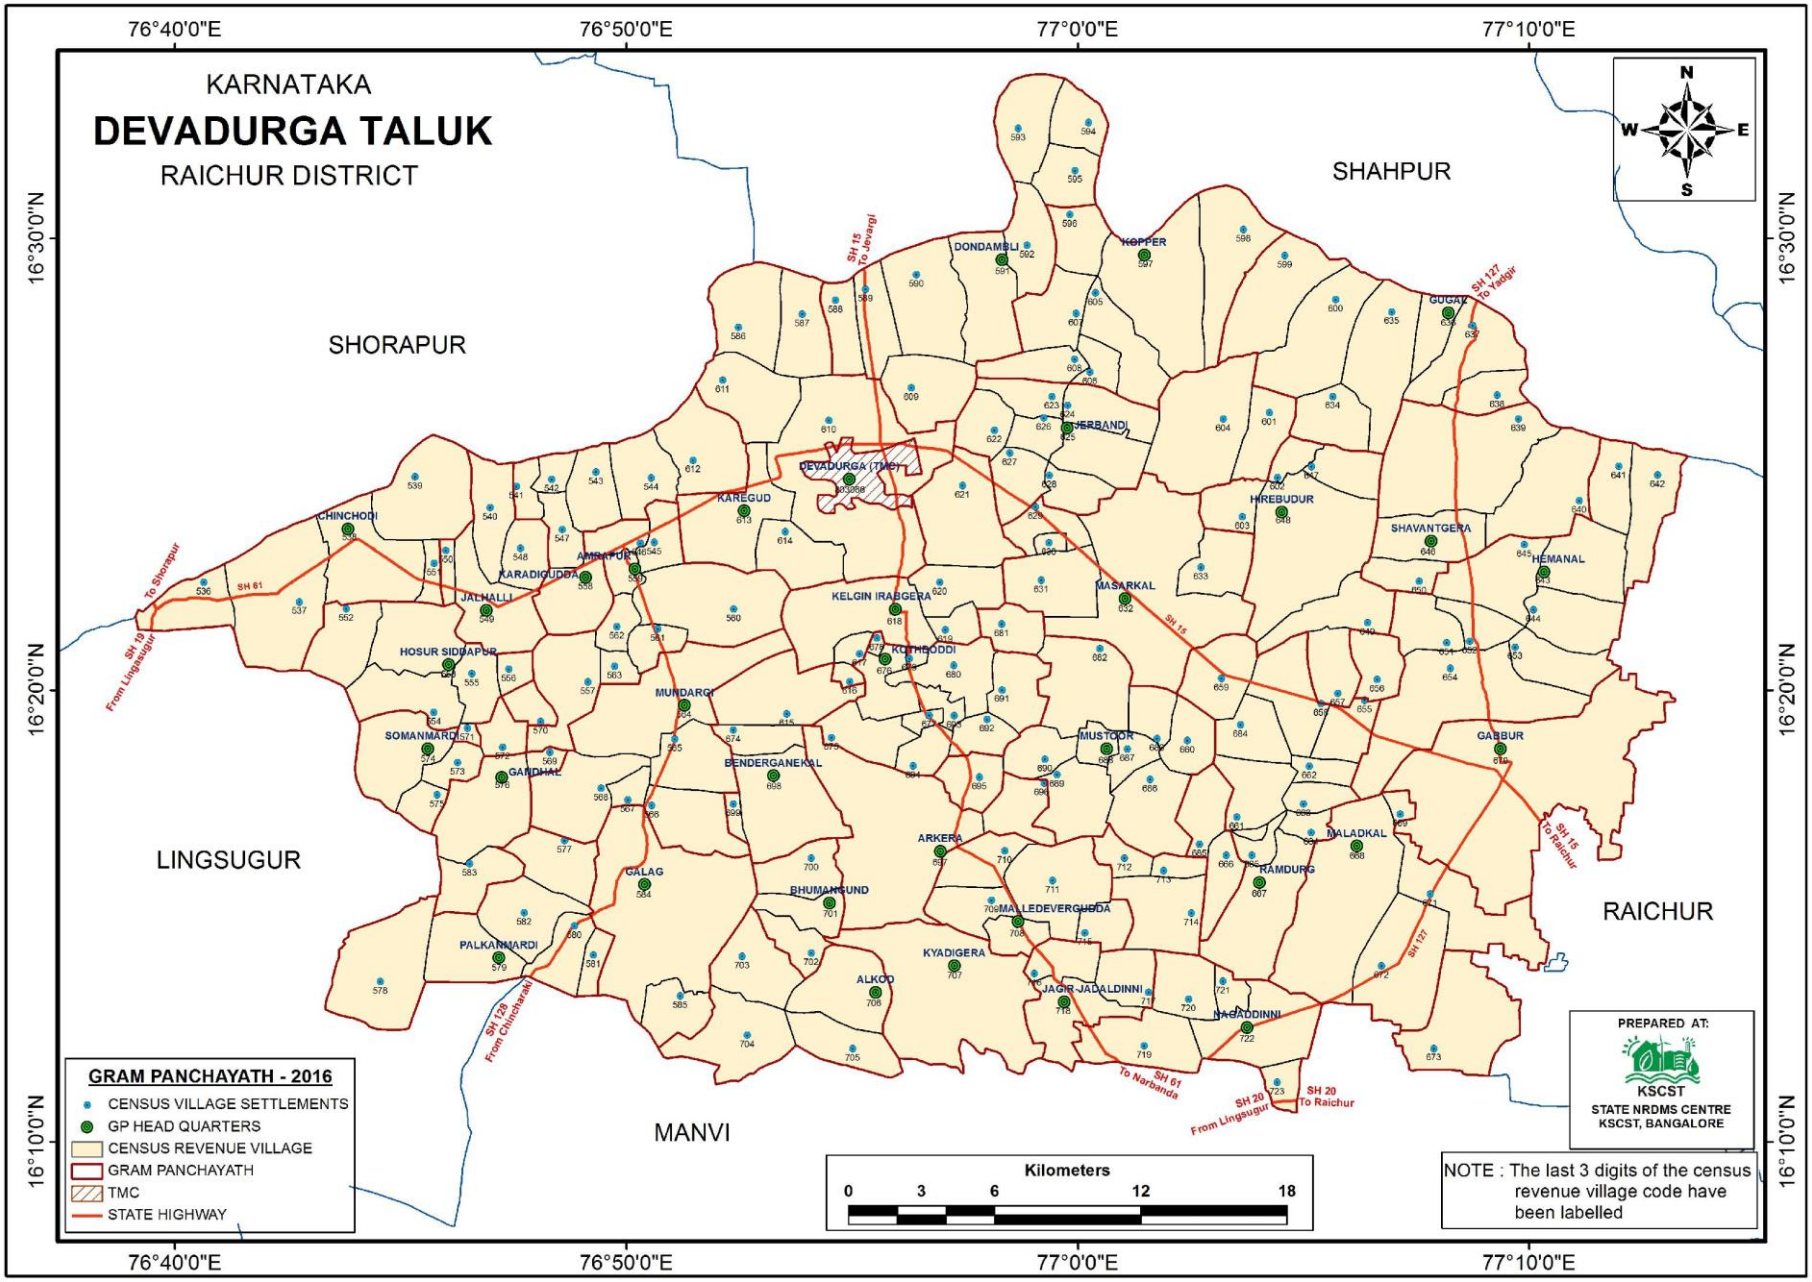

Raichur district lies between 15°09' and 16°34' N latitude and 75°46' and 77°35' E longitude and in between two major rivers, namely, the Krishna and the Tungabhadra. The general slope of the district is from the north-west towards the south-east, its average height above the Mean Sea-Level being just 1,311 feet.

Raichur district has rich cultural traditions and has been playing an important role in the field of literary activities since early times.

The region around Lingsugur gets the least amount of rainfall in the district while towards the south as well as the east, rainfall increases. During the south-west monsoon months, viz., June to September, the district received about 71% of the annual rainfall, September being the month with the highest rainfall. In the post-monsoon months of October and November also, the district receives some rain. The variations in the annual rainfall from year to year are large as is the case in the neighbouring districts.

CHIKKAMAGALURU DISTRICT

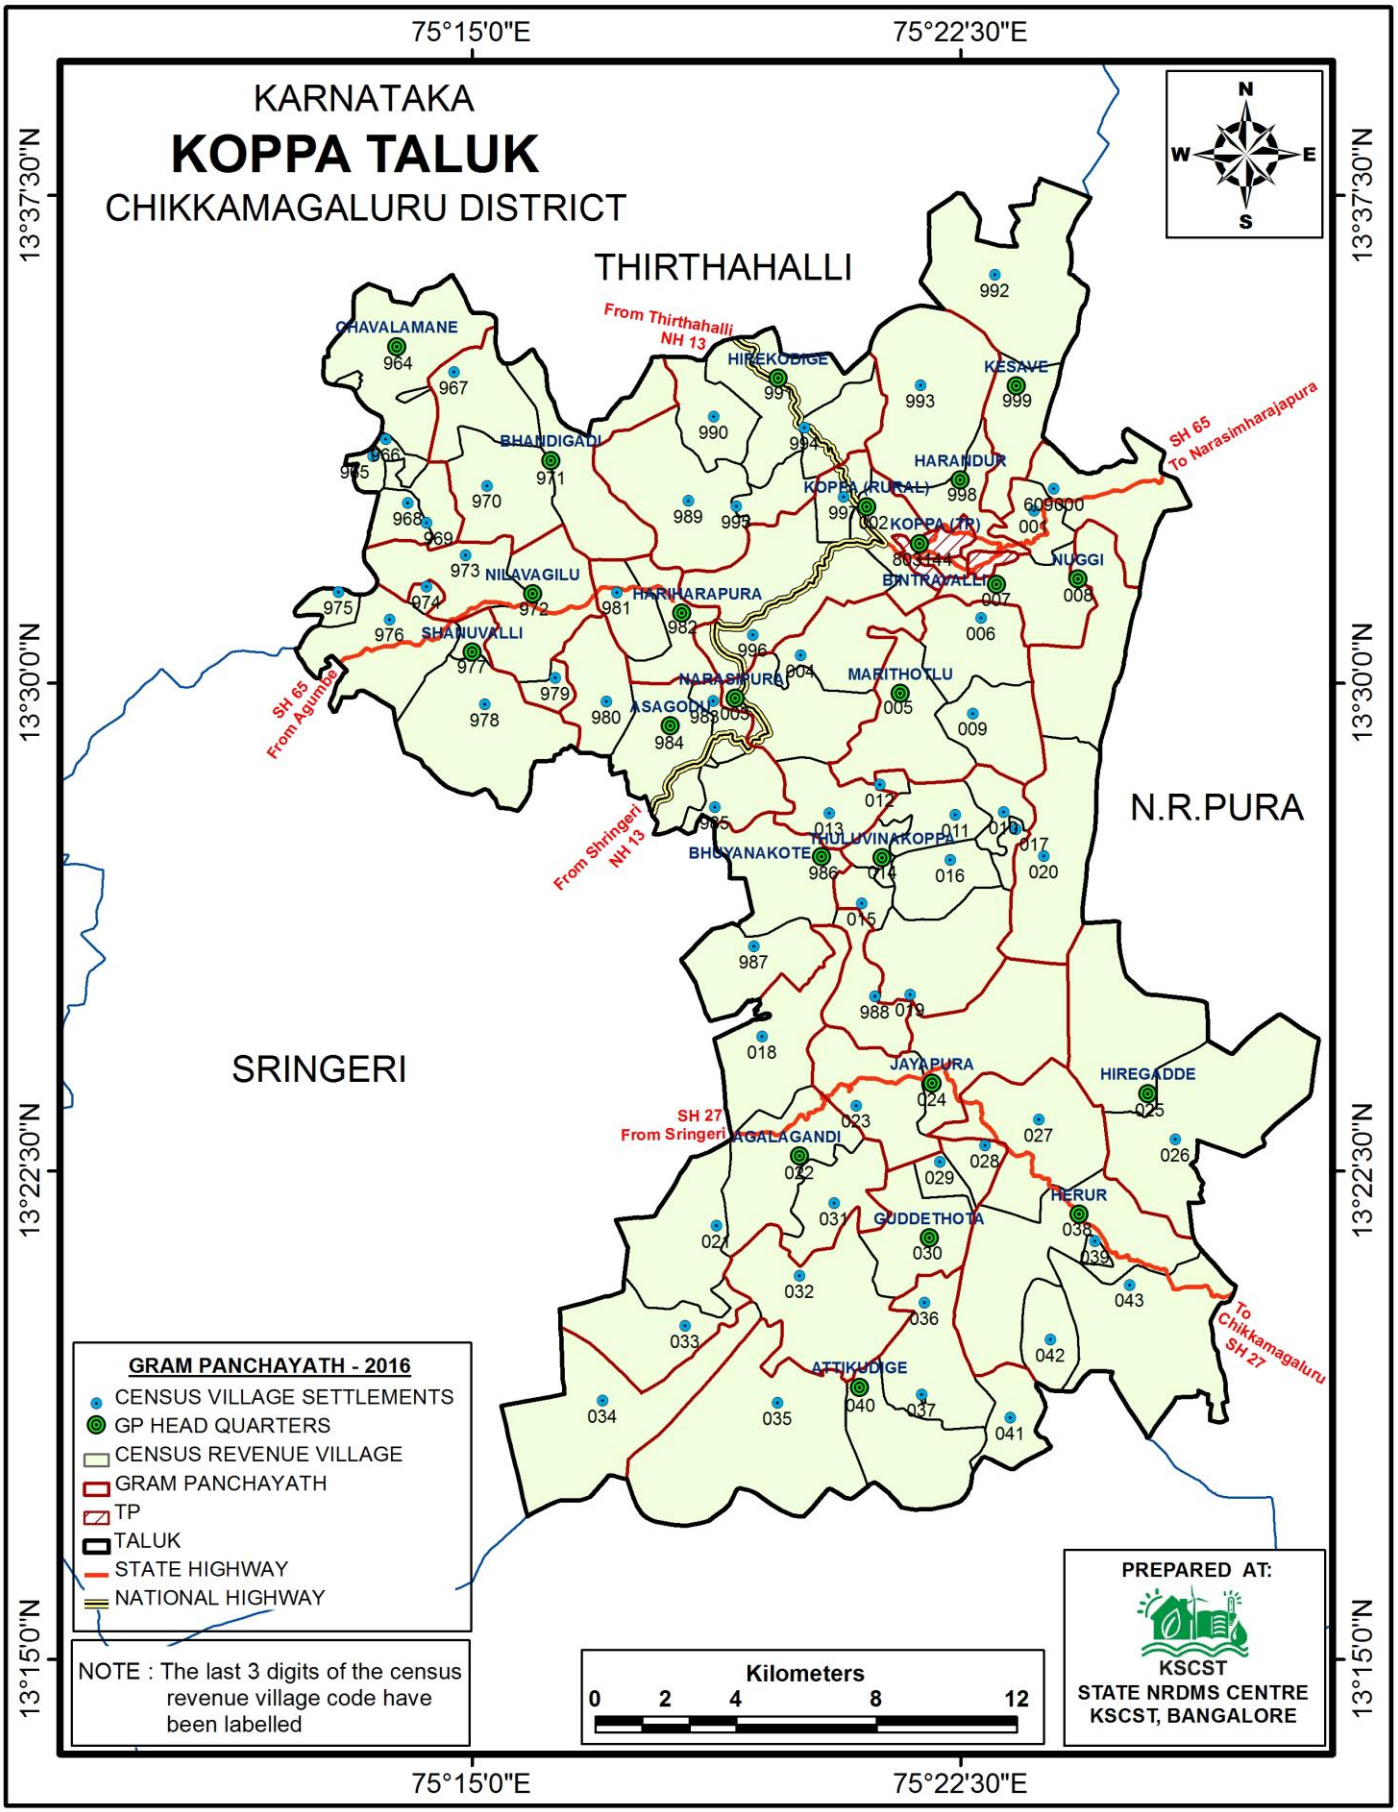

Chikkamagaluru district was called Kadur district till 1947. It is situated roughly in the south-western part of Karnataka state. A large area of this district is 'malnad', i.e., a largely forested hilly region of heavy rainfall. The district takes its name from the headquarters town of Chikkamagaluru which literally means younger daughter's town - Chikka+Magala+Ooru-(in Kannada).

The town enjoys a salubrious climate and has venerated monuments of all religions- Kodandarama temple a synthesis of Hoysala and Dravidian styles of architecture, Jamia Mosque and the new St.Jpseph's Cathedral with an attractive shell shaped portico. Hiremagalur which is now part of Chickmgalaur town has an Ishwara temple with a 1.22 metre high curious rotund figure of Jademuni. The temple also has a Yoopastambha supposed to be installed by King Janamejaya during his serpent sacrifice. There is also a Parashurama temple and a Kali shrine.

The district is situated between 12° 54′ 42′′ and 13° 53′ 53′′ north latitude and between 75° 04′ 46′′ and 76° 21′ 50′′ east longitude. Its greatest length from east to west is about 138.4 kilometers and from north to south 88.5 kilometers. General boundaries are East - Tumakuru district, South - Hassan district, West - Western Ghats which separates it from Dakhina Kannada (South Kanara), North - East: Chitradurga district, North - Shivamogga district.

KODAGU DISTRICT

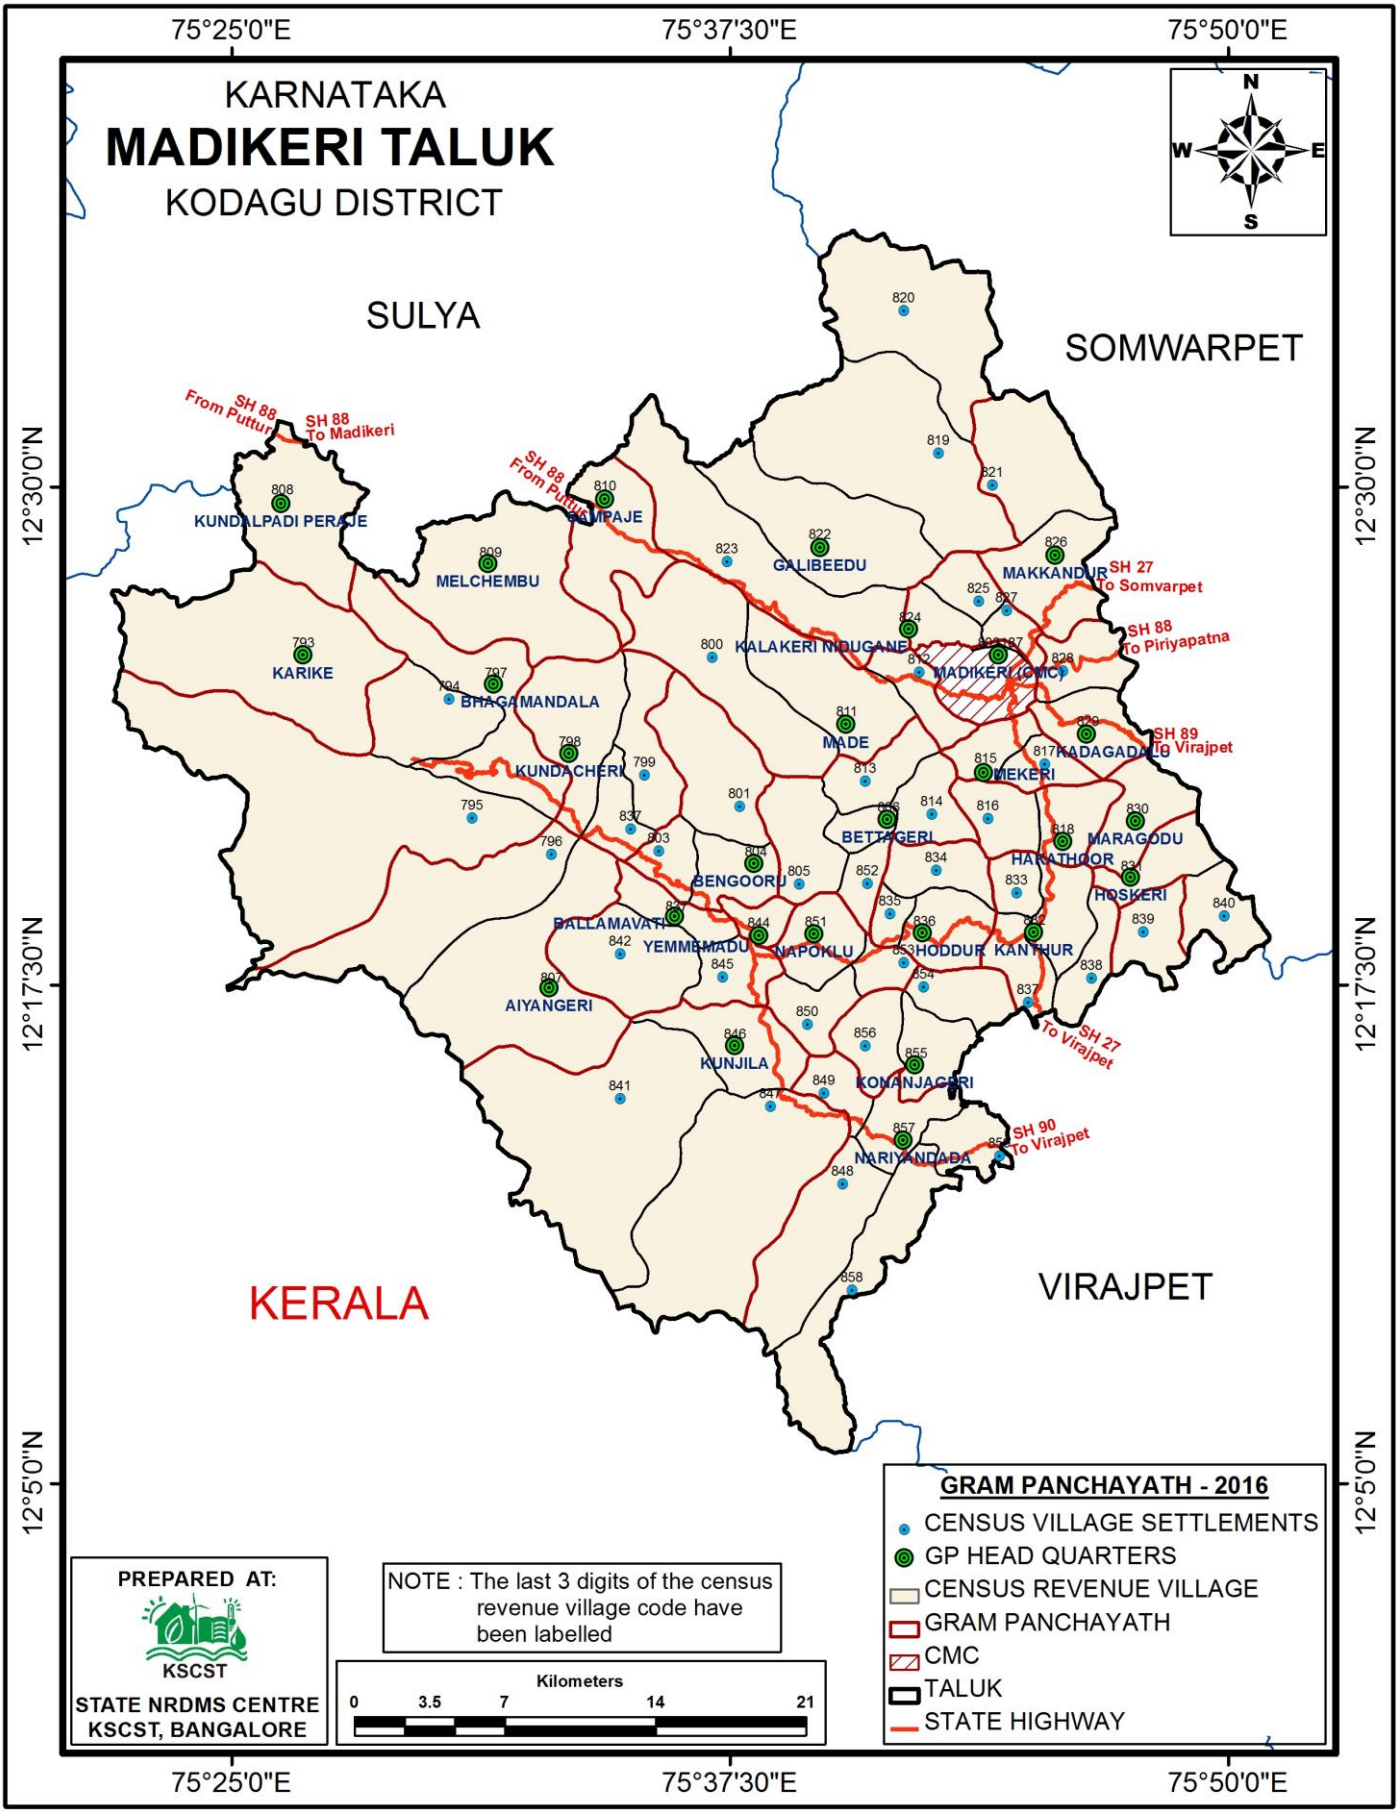

Kodagu (Coorg), the thickly wooded grandeur on the Western Ghats, is the most beautiful hill station of Karnataka. It occupies an area of 4,102 square kilometres (1,584 sq mi) in the westernghats of southwestern Karnataka.

As of 2001, the population was 548,561, 13.74% of which resided in the district's urban centres, making it the least populous of the 30 districts in Karnataka. Kodagu is well known in the world for coffee and its "brave warriors". Madikeri is the headquarters of Kodagu. Kodagu is home to the native speakers of Kodava language.

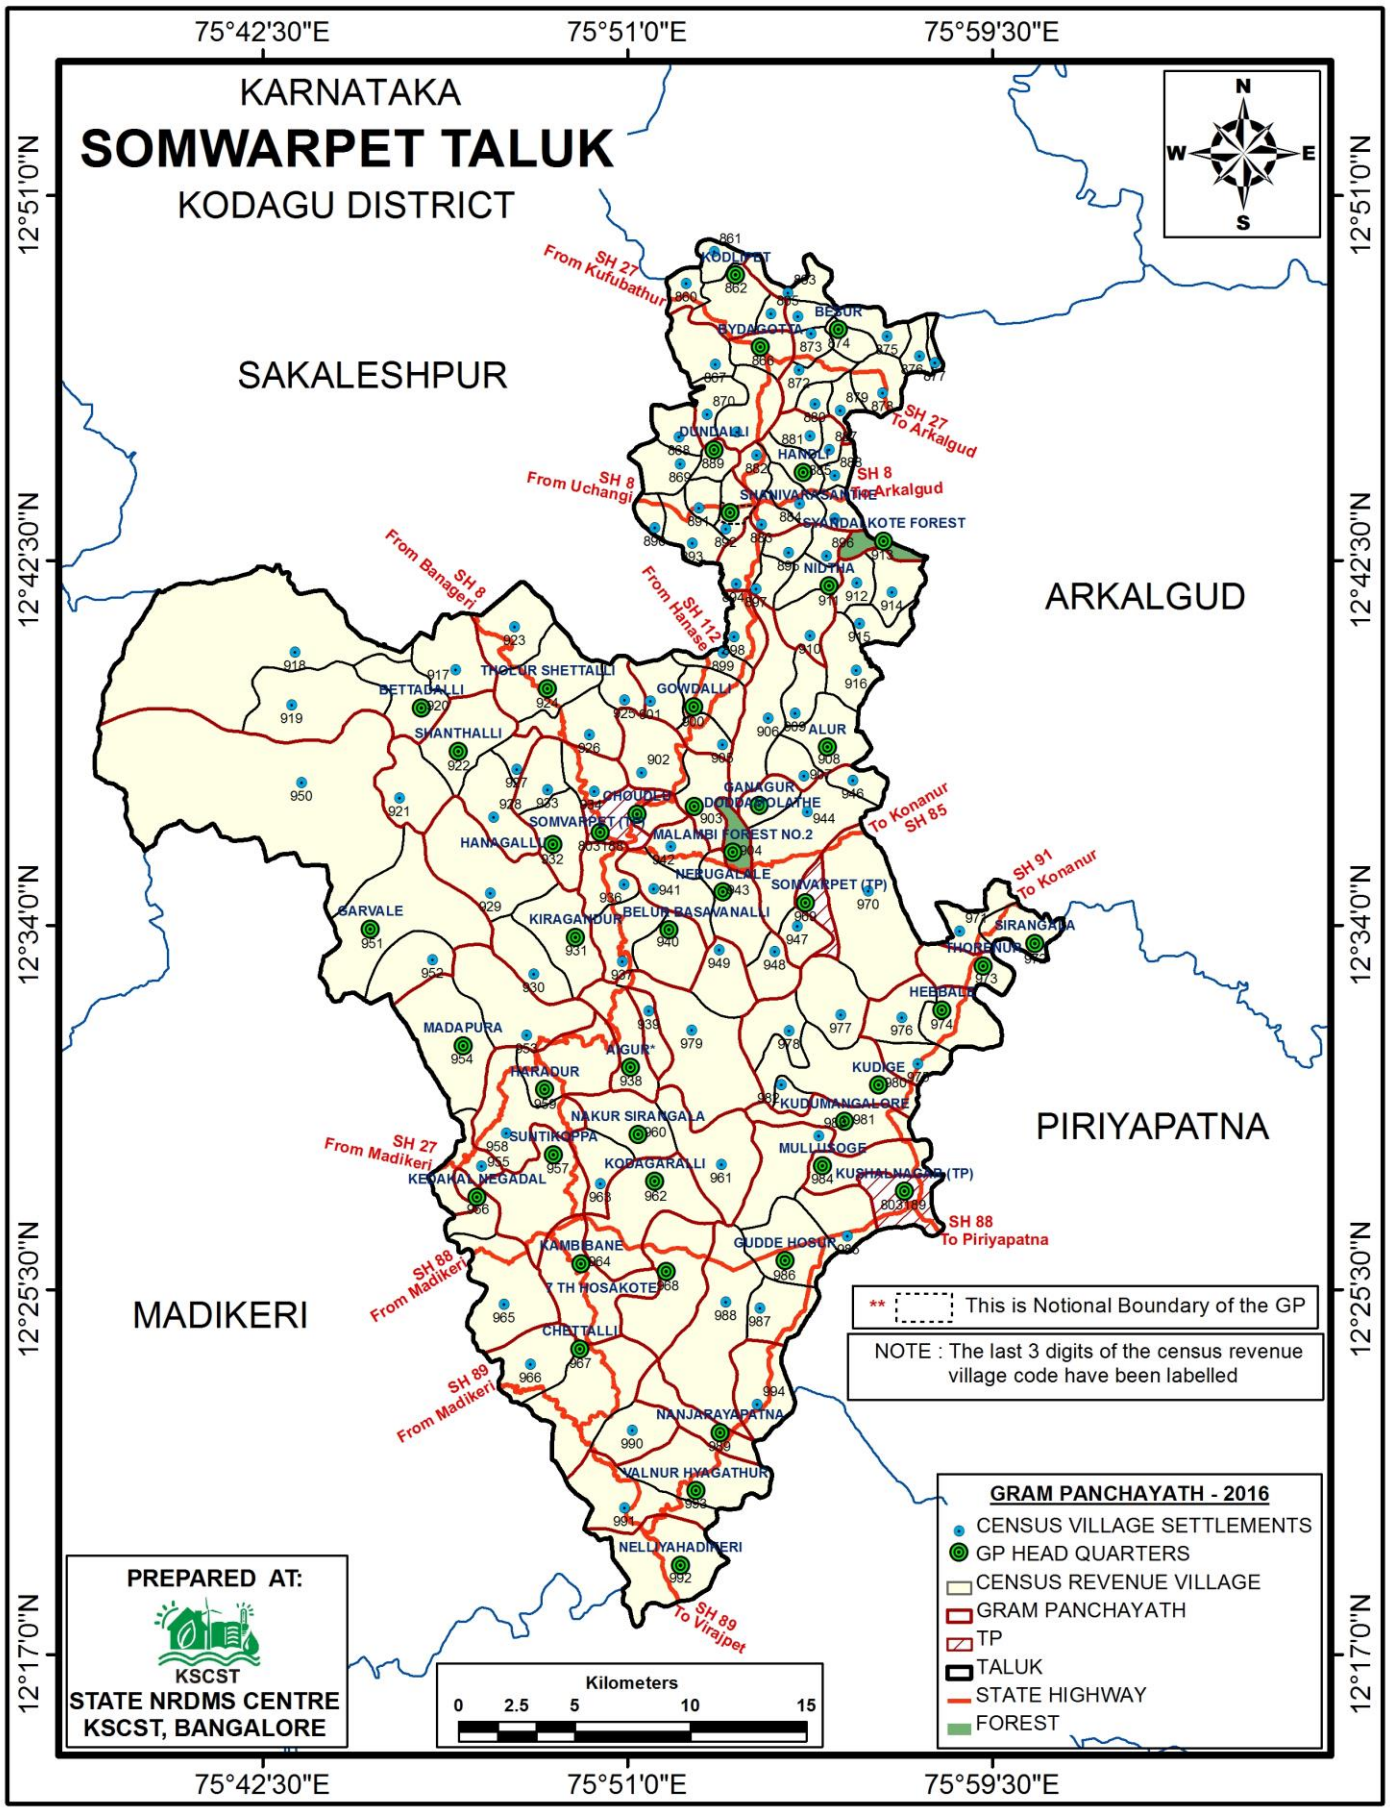

Much of Kodagu is used for agriculture. Characteristically and historically, paddy fields are found on the valley floors, with Coffee and pepper agroforestry in the surrounding hills mainly near Madikeri. The most common plantation crop is coffee, especially Coffea robusta variety. Kodagu is the second coffee production region in India, after the Baba Budangiri hills in Chikkamagaluru district. Coffee revenue helped Kodagu to become one the richest districts in India.Kodagu is considered rich with wildlife and has three wildlife sanctuaries and one national park: the Brahmagiri, Talakaveri, and Pushpagiri Wildlife Sanctuaries, and the Nagarhole National Park, also known as the Rajiv Gandhi National Park.

UDUPI DISTRICT

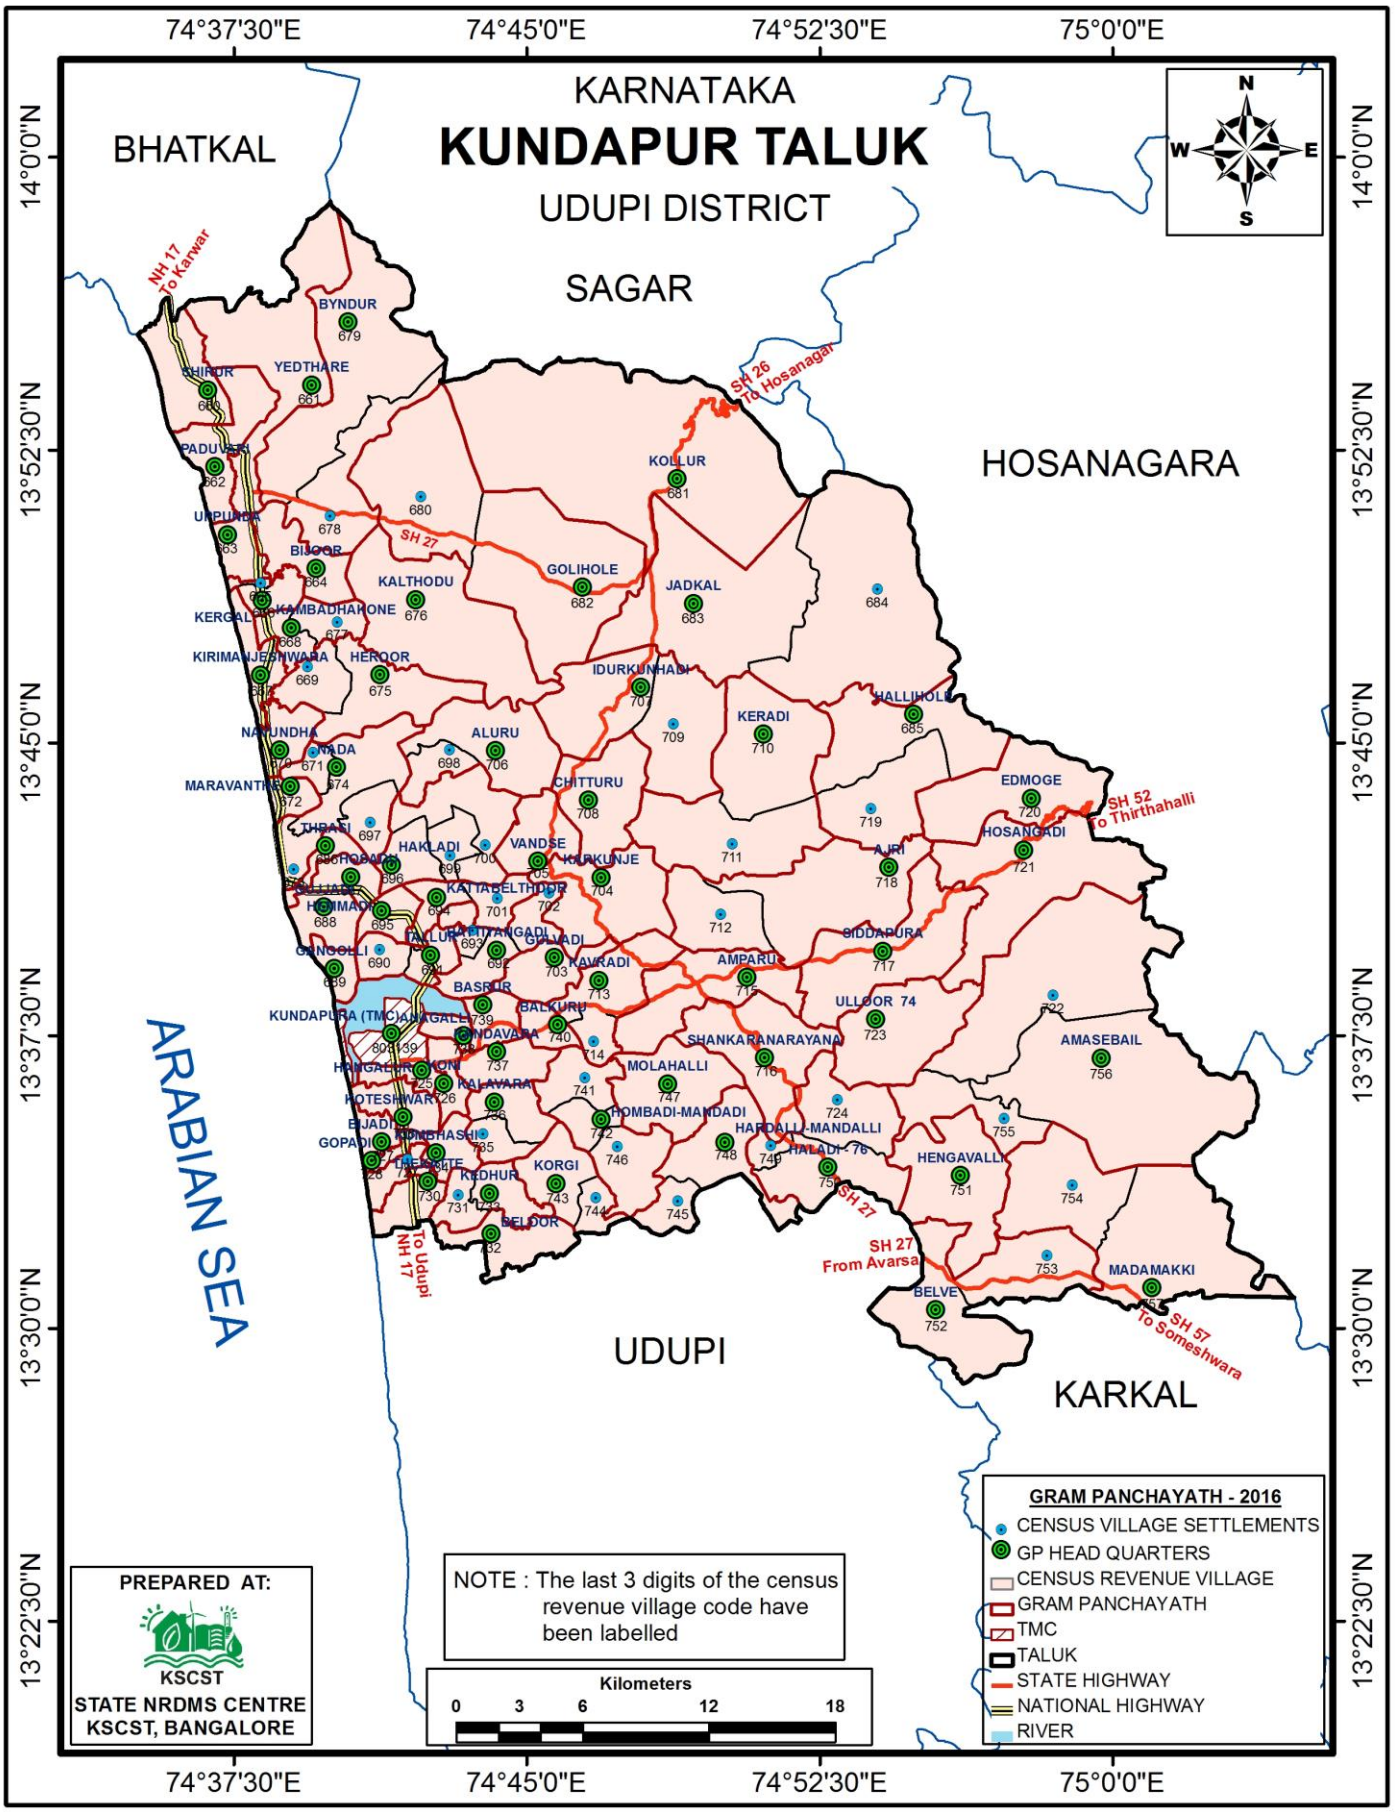

Udupi means the land of the "lord of the stars," the moon Udupi, which previously had a Town Municipal Council now has a City Municipal Council which came into existence in 1995. Areas around Udupi, such as Manipal, Malpe and Santhekatte were merged to form the City Municipal Council.The Udupi Urban Development Authority (UUDA) is responsible for town planning and other related development activities in Udupi and the surrounding areas.Udupi was carved out as a separate district from the erstwhile Dakshina Kannada district on 25 August 1997. Udupi, Kundapura and Karkala were bifurcated from the Dakshina Kannada District and the Udupi District was formed. The climate of the district shares the wider climatic pattern of the other West Coast districts of India. It is characterized by excessive humidity (78%) during the greater part of the year.

2. ಹಾಲಿ ಗ್ರಾಮ ಪಂಚಾಯತಿಗಳು 1991 ರ ಜನಗಣತಿ ಆಧಾರದ ಮೇಲೆ ಗ್ರಾಮ ಪಂಚಾಯತಿಗಳೆಂದು ರಚಿಸಲ್ಪಟ್ಟಿರುತ್ತವೆ. ಈ ಅವಧಿಯಲ್ಲಿ ಕೆಲವು ಗ್ರಾಮ ಪಂಚಾಯತಿಗಳನ್ನು ಪಟ್ಟಣ ಪಂಚಾಯತಿಯೆಂದು ಮೇಲ್ದರ್ಜೆಗೇರಿಸಲ್ಪಟ್ಟಿರುತ್ತವೆ ಮತ್ತು ಕೆಲವು ಹೊಸ ಗ್ರಾಮ ಪಂಚಾಯತಿಗಳು ಕೂಡ ಅಸ್ತಿತ್ವಕ್ಕೆ ಬಂದಿರುತ್ತವೆ. ಪ್ರಸ್ತುತ ರಾಜ್ಯದಲ್ಲಿ 5629 ಗ್ರಾಮ ಪಂಚಾಯತಿಗಳಿರುತ್ತವೆ.
